

GRAND JURY SESSION
ON CRIMINAL CASES

Forgery Charge in Connection With Hospital Site Considered
—Verdict in Case of O'Dowd vs.
St. Railway Co.

The grand jury convened at the court house in Gorham street, this morning for the consideration of criminal cases in this district. The principal case brought for their consideration at this session was that of Thomas F. O'Dowd, charged with forgery in connection with initiative proceedings on the contagious hospital site.

The witnesses summoned to the court house today to testify in this case were: Sergt. Petrie, City Clerk Flynn, Walter Guyette, James McCart-

HOUSE RAIDED THE ENGLISH FLAG

After watching a house located at 25 Cross street for several weeks, the local police last night raided the premises and placed under arrest two girls aged 19 and 30 years and one man whom it is alleged was the proprietor of the house. These arrested are: Demetrios Stefanos, 40, 25 Cross st.; Ethel M. Parker, 19, Concord, N. H.; and Emma Mercer, Manchester, N. H.

It is said that for nearly two months Sergt. Petrie and Special Officer Clark have had this house under their surveillance in an attempt to secure enough evidence to convict the inhabitants and last night's raid was the result.

The police also allege that a quantity of beer was secured in the empty house, while hooties showed that a large amount of liquor had been consumed there.

CHALIFOUX

THE WOODS ARE FULL OF TINKLING BIRD NOTES
They are little echoes of joy that the winter is over and the summer is here. The whole earth seems to be turning a bright side toward those who have long known had weather. Almost every day has some sun in it with new light and kindly warmth, and every day we add to the pleasure of our customers the sight of NEW and PRETTY in Ready-to-Wear Apparel.

Flown From Sun Building Today in Honor of George V

Today is the birthday of King George V. of England and throughout the dominion on which the sun never sets, flags are waving gaily in commemoration, for in England the birthday of the reigning monarch is set apart in a very special manner as a day of national celebration. In the golden days of pageantry the birthdays of the kings and queens was a signal for rejoicing throughout the kingdom, and the splendor of such events in the times of Harry and Elizabeth still dazzles the student of history. In our own times the long reign of Victoria was a thrill of pride in English hearts in all climes where the Union Jack holds sway, and undoubtedly long memories will be aroused today by the flag that waves in honor of the present king throughout the world. Many who see the English flag flying from the flag-pole of the Sun building today may not understand its significance, but few of those born in England will forget that it marks the anniversary of their beloved king, for the English are devotedly attached to their rulers.

King George V. was born June 3, 1863, and acceded to the throne May 6, 1910. After the death of his father, King Edward VII., there was a great deal of speculation as to the character of the new monarch, for Edward had admirable qualities and it was felt that his successor would be in some ways a disappointment. This, however, has not been the case. Despite the fact that England has had very radical political movements and great social problems of a perplexing nature, the present king has noted with tact, discretion and rare diplomacy. He has also inherited the democratic tendencies of his popular father, and is undoubtedly beloved by the people of England. In a few short weeks he will sign the home rule bill for Ireland and by so doing will be reverentially remembered in that country. England has excellent reason to be proud of King George and today a large portion of the civilized world will join them in singing "God Save the King."

EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

DEDICATION OF FIVE NEW BUILDINGS ON PROPERTY OF CONSTANTINOPLE COLLEGE
NEW YORK, June 3.—According to despatches received from Constantinople, a new era in higher education for women in the near east was marked today by the dedication of the five new buildings on the property of Constantinople college at Arnaukeou, on the European shores of the Bosphorus. Americans who participated in the exercises included George A. Plympton and Walter B. Walker of New York, trustees of the college, and Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, titular head of the school. Mr. Walker represented Mrs. Helen Miller Gould Shepard, the donor of Gould hall.

PACIFICATION OF MEXICO
NOW UP TO CARRANZA

Mediators Open Way for Constitutionalists to Participate in Conferences at Niagara—Mexican Delegates Announce That Huerta is Preparing to Withdraw

NIAGARA FALLS, June 3.—The attention of the mediators today was turned toward General Carranza, constitutionalist chief. From him must come the next move which will determine whether or not Mexico will be pacified by diplomacy. The way has been opened by the mediators for participation in the conferences by the constitutionalists if they care to come in.

Rafael Zubaran, minister of the interior in General Carranza's cabinet who is now in Washington on a special mission will have received today a note outlining the attitude of the mediators. The communication is phrased diplomatically and paves the way for the entry of the constitutionalists. In fact, according to those who are well informed, it is difficult to see how the constitutionalists can refuse so ardently have the mediators placed their position before them.

Hitherto the constitutionalists have had two objections to the mediation program. They declined to discuss internal affairs, but desired to treat on international questions. They refused to arrange a suspension of hostilities against Huerta.

B. & M. HEARINGS
On Bills Authorizing
New Haven and Holding Co.'s to Sell Stock

BOSTON, June 3.—An opportunity for the presentation of views on the railroad situation in this state was given today when a public hearing was arranged by the legislative committee on railroads on two bills introduced by Senator Hilton of Framingham. The bills were offered after the reading of the message of Gov. Walsh recommending the passage of legislation to permit the separation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Maine railroads.

One of them is a so-called enabling act which would authorize the New Haven company to dispose of its stock in the Boston Holding company and permit the holding company, which owns a majority of the Boston & Maine stock to dispose of these shares.

The other bill would authorize the New Haven to dispose of its stock in the Berkshire Street Railway Co. and would relieve the New Haven from obligation to build certain trolley lines in the western part of the state.

PAWN BROKER'S RATES
WERE BROUGHT UP AT MEETING OF LICENSE COMMISSION LAST NIGHT

At the regular meeting of the license commission held last evening a hearing was given to Charles A. Webb, who charged William B. Hawes, a pawnbroker doing business at 320 Central street with demanding a rate of interest exceeding the percentage specified by law. The two finally agreed upon a settlement.

The following licenses were granted: Hawker and peddler—Geo. E. Brown, 79 Chestnut street; Philip Cohen, 15 Daly street; Charles D. Whidden, 74 Huntington street. Permit to sell knickknacks, stationery and lead pencils, Wallace Wilcox, 64 Fletcher street. Junk collector—Elmer J. Felton, Chelmsford. To sell ice cream, confectionery, soda water and fruit on the Lord's day—Ellen Deland, 111 Ford street; Mary E. Sullivan, 359 Central street; E. L. Turcott, 610 Merrimack street; Minnie Talville, 55 Tucker street; Vivienne Laforge, 377 Broadway. Public amusement for dancing—Charles E. Caldwell, 345 Pawtucket street (Pawtucket bathhouse). Express, Manog Andorian, 49 Lakeview avenue; Nicholas Theodoran, 400 Market street.

MILITANT ATTACKS

MAN WITH HATCHET

Rained a Shower of Blows on Man Who Tried to Prevent Her
From Slashing Pictures—Two Others Horsewhip Doctor

LONDON, June 3.—The wild women again wreaked their vengeance on Dr. Francis Edward Forward, deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway jail. Two women armed with stout horsewhips sprang upon the doctor as he left the prison today and were thrashing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants. The women declared that their action was a protest against the "forcible feeding for which this beast is responsible." Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct.

MILITANT MADE SAVAGE ATTACK
ON ATTENDANT AT ART GALLERY

LONDON, June 3.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made today by a young militant suffragette on an attendant at the Dore gallery, who tried to prevent her from destroying the valuable pictures on exhibition there.

The woman who thus abandoned the principle of the sanctity of human life, hitherto held up as one of the chief assets of the militant suffragettes, already had ruined two paintings in the gallery which is in new Bond street, the heart of the fashionable quarter of London. She was proceeding to hack a third picture when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm.

The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other attendants rushed to Bourlet's aid and quickly overpowered and disarmed the woman. She kicked, struggled and screamed for some minutes until she was banded over to the police. The woman evidently is educated and was stylishly dressed.

SHEVLIN GETS ONE YEAR
FORMER CUSTOMS INSPECTOR SEN-TENCED ON CHARGE OF CON-SPIRACY TO SMUGGLE

BOSTON, June 3.—Terrance L. Shevlin, formerly a customs inspector in the employ of the government, was sentenced to the jail at Greenfield for a year and a day by Judge Morton in the United States district court yesterday on an indictment for conspiracy to smuggle dress goods into this country.

Three other cases against him were not pro'd. His wife, Annie Shevlin, was let go in all four cases before the court yesterday. The indictment on which her husband was sentenced also named her and Kate A. Brennan, a New York dressmaker, as defendants. As to both of them it was placed on file.

REBELS TAKE SCHOONER
FEDERAL VESSEL CARRYING SUG-AR WENT AGROUND AND WAS SEIZED BY CONSTITUTIONALISTS

ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, Mazatlan, June 2, via San Diego, June 3. The Mexican schooner Garibaldi, carrying sugar, went aground today on Pedras Island in Mazatlan harbor and was captured by the constitutionalists. The vessel is breaking up in the surf.

The federal governor of Mazatlan has granted permission to a representative of the United States company to enter the constitutionalist lines to try to negotiate for the return of the captured sugar.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Members of Board of Trade Hear Interesting Reports — Election of Officers

The annual meeting of the members of the Lowell board of trade was held last night at the board's rooms in Central street and the affair proved very interesting. There were over 100 members present and considerable business was transacted. The secretary, John H. Murphy, submitted a lengthy report on the doings of the organization during the past year and the document was very interesting and it was evident by the work accomplished that the officers of the board were wide awake during the entire year. Committee reports were also read and the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mr. Robert F. Marden, who is now in London, being elected president.

In the absence of the president, Geo. M. Harrigan, the meeting was called to order by Patrick O'Hearn, third vice president. The presiding officer took occasion to bring to the attention of the meeting a few facts concerning the work of the board during the past 12 months, and he paid a flattering compliment to President Harrigan and Secretary Murphy for their untiring efforts in bringing the organization to such a high standard.

Secretary Murphy's Report

Secretary John H. Murphy read his annual report, and although it was a lengthy document, it was heard with much interest. The report was in part as follows:

The office of the board is really the general information bureau of the city. The service rendered the public varies widely and requires considerable time. The inquiries concerning information of business houses and commercial opportunities are answered, and many prospective customers, from all over the world, were referred to Lowell manufacturers and jobbers.

The details of the office work requiring the attention of the secretary can be summarized as follows: 1285 people called at the office on various matters, 1809 telephone calls were answered and 2682 pieces of mail were received and 10,172 letters were sent from the office.

Meetings

During this year the board has held eight meetings of the entire membership and the directors have held 10 meetings, while the executive committee has been in session weekly. There board was held on Nov. 11th, 1913, at which time Mr. Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association was the speaker of the evening. The meeting was well attended and the address of Mr. Wentworth very interesting.

New Year's Meeting

The largest meeting in the history of the organization was held at the Lowell armory on January 21st, 1914, the occasion being the New Year's meeting of the board. It is estimated that more than 500 members were present and enjoyed the program of the evening.

Preceding the dinner the members inspected a collection of Philip Philpott's paintings. The guests and speakers of the evening were William J. Burns, president of the International Detective association, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, mayor of Lowell, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association and Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson. The meeting was voted a complete success by those present and the affair stands as one of the most successful events conducted by the organization.

Income Tax Meeting

The very intricate and confusing sections of the new income tax laws were the subject of discussion led by Mr. Olaf Olsen, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Boston on February 20th, 1914. The meeting was well attended and proved interesting and instructive.

Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade was held in Associate hall, March 5, 1914, and attended by more than 300 members.

The speaker of the evening was United States Senator John W. Weeks, who discussed national legislation concerning currency. Hon. Dennis J. Murphy also responded to a toast "The City of Lowell."

Membership

There are 611 members who have paid their 1914 assessment, 133 members who have paid their 1913 assessment who will remit 1914 assessment before the close of the year and there are 81 members who paid 1912, who we hope will pay during 1914. This brings

JOHN H. MURPHY,
Secretary

have been 83 committee meetings held during the year.

The board had the honor during the year of having as guests, John W. Weeks, U. S. senator, John Jacob Rogers, congressman, William J. Burns, president of the international detective agency, Alfred W. Cutting, representative, Sheldon efficiency system, Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association, Olaf Olsen, assistant cashier First National bank, Gardner W. Pearson, Adjutant General of Massachusetts, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the Boston & Maine railroad, Hon. James E. O'Donnell and Hon. D. J. Murphy.

Annual Outing

The usual summer outing of the board was conducted in the form of an inspection day at the new Billerica car shops.

A special train conveyed about 400 members of the boards of trade of Greater Lowell to the shops where a dinner was served and a tour of inspection of the mammoth plant enjoyed by the members.

The guests on this occasion were the following: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the plant, W. H. Senley, manager of the New England Lines' Industrial bureau, Carl E. Smith, P. C. Sheppard, T. J. Coffin, engineers of the Boston & Maine railroad, and Robert H. Newcomb, publicity agent of the B. & M. R. R.

A very interesting speech concerning the history of the Boston & Maine railroad was delivered by Hon. John Jacob Rogers on this occasion.

Fire Prevention Meeting

In connection with the board's movement, in conducting a fire prevention and clean up week, a meeting of the the total membership on our rolls, after revising the list to date, to 825.

New Industries

A very important function of board of trade work is the securing of new industries and the conserving of established industries.

The following firms located in Lowell during the year: Ring Piano company, manufacturers of pianos, occupying about 20,000 square feet of floor space, employing 100.

Northern Waste company, manufacturers of cotton wastes, occupying 31,600 square feet of floor space, employing about 75 people.

George E. Double Company, cotton goods manufacturers, occupying 16,000 square feet of floor space, employing 50 people.

Many propositions were investigated by the secretary and special committees, but it was found that capital as well as location was desired by many of these firms.

Billerica B. & M. Railroad Shops

During the year the extensive Billerica railroad shops of the Boston & Maine railroad began operations, and it is safe to say that this new industry is the largest that has located in New England within the past five years.

The increase in general business and the influx of well paid mechanics and their families to our city are the first tokens of reward for the very arduous and successful work accomplished by the officers and committees of the board in bringing about the location of these shops within Greater Lowell.

It is an inspiring significance as to the future development of the city to witness the daily arrival of the heavily loaded work train of fourteen cars and to see the hundreds of workmen meet their way to their homes, a guarantee of both increased business and population.

Housing Billerica Employees

The board, upon the recommendation of the executive committee, after consulting with the Boston & Maine officials and the real estate men of the city, decided to compile a list of available tenements and rooms to rent in the city.

The real estate dealers furnished a list of all the property available and the Lowell Gas company and the Electric Light company furnished a list of houses where meters had been removed, which was an indication of an idle tenement. This information was tabulated and a copy put on file in accordance with a card index system showing the rental, number of rooms, distances from school and street car line, the name of the owner, restrictions, if any, and the place at which the key could be located for inspection of the same.

Merrimack River Development

The question of the development of the Merrimack river has occupied the attention of the board. The waterway committee has very efficiently attended to the many details concerning the progress of work of the development scheme of the river.

To the Lowell board of trade belongs the credit for the very successful work accomplished in connection with the favorable consideration given the report of the Merrimack valley waterway board by the legislature.

Visits of Committees

Through the courtesy of Congressman John Jacob Rogers the committee on national rivers and harbors of the house of representatives paid a visit to Lowell and inspected the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea. Visits and tours of inspection were also made by the Merrimack valley waterway board, the harbors and lands commission of Massachusetts, and the legislative committee on rivers and harbors. Statistics tending to show the importance of the development of the river were prepared and presented to each of the commissions on the occasion of their visits to the city.

Middlesex Street Grade Crossing

The resurveyed question of the elimination of the Middlesex street grade crossing was again the subject of discussion by committees of the board. The board was represented at hearings held before Justice McLaughlin of the superior court in reference to the appointment of a commission to pass upon the question of the elimination of the crossing. The board was also represented at two hearings held before the appointed commission, and statistics dealing with traffic conditions at the crossing were presented at the hearings.

Pipe Prevention

The committee has advocated the holding of clean-up and fire prevention weeks and by means of published proclamations and bulletins of fire prevention methods have successfully created a spirit of helpfulness on the part of the people of the city to keep the yards, homes and streets free from refuse and other causes of fire.

During the week of Nov. 4, 1913, and April 18, 19 and 20, 1914, and during the weeks of May 4 in accordance with the plan of the New England clean-up and paint-up campaign, much good was accomplished by means of co-operative work on the part of the people of the city.

Inspection of Lowell

The committee invited the national board of underwriters to re-inspect the city with a purpose in view of having the benefit of the suggestion of the engineers of the national board. Many of the recommendations made by these engineers in 1905 have already been put in force.

The re-inspection was made during April and the report and recommendations are awaited anxiously by the committee.

If a favorable report is rendered it is quite possible that a movement calling for a reduction in fire insurance rates will be made. The committee will endeavor to have the new recommendations carried out.

In Memoriam

It was the sad experience of the year's record that the following members who were loyal in their co-operation and assistance passed away: Patrick Conlon, Abel Wheeler, Thomas H. Lawler, Dr. Chas. E. Snyder, Patrick Gilbride.

Local Newspapers

A deep sense of appreciation and gratitude is expressed to the newspapers of the city and their representatives who have so cordially co-operated in the many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many of the details of the board's work and the successful culmination of many matters depending upon the support of the community has thus been brought about.

The work for transportation, better street car service, Lowell day, exhibition of foreign cotton, the Lowell slogan contest, legislative matters, together with the meetings of the executive committee were dealt with at length.

Conclusion

The Lowell board of trade stands for progress, upward and forward and meets conditions with a fearless resolve to create enthusiasm among the people of the city and to attract strangers by a determination to place Lowell in the forefront of American cities.

The majority of members or people of the city are not aware of the vast amount of work that is being accomplished in an effort to make Lowell the best city in the world. The work is large and necessarily slow and hampered by reason of limited funds, but the spirit is at all times of the highest.

Lowell's advantages are many, opportunities abound, the future of Lowell is never brighter; then all together to share in the development and help the cause by always speaking a good word for the best place on earth, or remain silent.

The auditor's report showed that the organization on June 1, had a balance on hand of $1953.37. The total receipts for the year were $1658.62, while the expenditures amounted to $1214.65. This report was received with applause.

Auditor William F. Hills then reported for the board of auditing and his report was to the effect that the financial conditions of the organization are O. K.

Insurance Committee

The insurance and fire prevention committee through the chairman, Daniel F. Carroll, reported on their work which proved very satisfactory. The report stated that conferences have been held with the chiefs of the police and fire departments in reference to a clean-up campaign, and also with Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association. The closing of the report was to the effect that the committee will continue to study local conditions and be prepared to carry out any recommendations made by the national board of underwriters in their report.

John H. Murphy reported for the city beautiful committee in place of Harvey B. Greene, who was unable to attend, and the report had much to do with the planting of trees in the school yards of the city. The members of this committee in their report also announced that they have declared war on the billboards which adorn the city and that they will resume activities to do away with them altogether.

Officers Elected

The following officers were elected: President, Robert F. Marden; first vice president, Patrick O'Hearn; second vice president, Frank Hanchett; third vice president, Harry Dunlap; treasurer, Edward B. Carney; auditor, William F. Hills; clerk, James C. Reilly. Honorary directors: Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, ex-President Jesse H. Sheppard, ex-President Walter S. Watson, ex-President Alonzo G. Walsh, ex-President Henry A. Smith, ex-President Harvey B. Greene, ex-President George M. Harrigan, elected directors: Hon. Ervin R. Barlow, Wm. H. Bolger, Otis W. Butler, Daniel F. Carroll, Harold L. Chalifoux, Milo D. Clay, Jesse B. Crook, Herbert N. Elliott, Frederic A. Fisher, Walter E. Gaudette, Irving D. Kimball, Fred O. Lewis, Benj. J. Mahoney, D. A. Mackenzie, Clarence H. Nelson, Thomas J. O'Donnell, Wm. H. BRYAN DEFEATED RYAN

Many of those who in the past have given Mr. William Jennings Bryan their confidence and their loyal support have been greatly surprised to find that in spite of all the Mexican complications, he tore himself away from Washington to oppose the candidacy of Hon. Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia for governor of Pennsylvania. At the primaries the democratic candidate opposed to Mr. Ryan was a Mr. McCormick, who seems to have been a pet of the administration at Washington inasmuch as not only Secretary Bryan but Secretary Daniels of the navy and Secretary Wilson of labor department went into Pennsylvania to help McCormick defeat Ryan.

It is not usual for democratic leaders to take part in primary election contests which are usually left to the voters unless there be some very extreme reason for interference. There was no reason in the Pennsylvania case, except that McCormick was a politician to whom the administration at Washington may have been more or less indebted. But whatever may have been the reason the fact remains that it was this interference which defeated Mr. Ryan, a man who stands before the nation today the superior of Mr. Bryan or any of the cabinet officials who opposed him. In Philadelphia where he is well known as a public official, his vote was three times as large as that of his opponent and speaking of his candidacy the North American of that city says:

"With all the power of the national administration behind him, McCormick barely won against Ryan, who had the prestige of a singularly good official record. We are only repeating what we have said before when we say that Mr. Ryan has lived up to his professions better than any other public official we ever supported. It has never been necessary to apologize for any act of his; the people of Philadelphia have always been able to count upon his faithful protection of the city's interests in his care. It was this fine record which made possible his magnificent showing against unfair odds."

The people of Pennsylvania should resent any such dictation from Washington and we venture to say that the voters will deal with McCormick in a manner that will teach the Wilson cabinet to keep their hands off in the future.

On the morning of the primaries President Wilson gave out a statement that he did not approve the interference of the cabinet officials in Pennsylvania politics but his statement was too late to have any effect on the issues.

FIELD DAY

With glorious weather warm and clear but not sultry, the field day of the high school regiment yesterday proved an event that brought happiness to thousands of our citizens young and old and again demonstrated the efficiency of the young people in all that relate to physical culture. Fathers and mothers and big brothers and sisters sat in the bleachers for hours and watched the strenuous evolutions of the boys and the graceful movements of the girls through the various drills, wondering that so many can be trained to act as a unit. Though the perfection of the final exhibition can only be attained by long and persistent practice, it was evident that many of these taking part got as much pleasure from the drills as the spectators. The drill, and strive to avoid field day by specious excuse. This attitude is due to thoughtlessness for any healthy boy or girl must feel pardonable pride in being a factor in such a splendid exhibition. Unfortunately there is a feeling of independence growing up among boys and girls that is manifesting itself in curious ways. The high school student who is a new unto himself is by no means uncommon, and occasionally one finds a specimen who would like high school very much if he did not have to drill, or march in parades, or study. Wordsworth was way ahead of his time when he wrote: "The child is father of the man," for his words now have a direct application that he scarcely intended. When men in homes and schools are again fathers of the children, and assert the fact, cities and

DON'T STIFLE COMPETITION

At the present time there seems to be some difference of opinion in regard to the interpretation of the charter and particularly of those clauses relative to the purchase of supplies for the city departments. It is very specifically stated in the charter that all requisitions over $500 shall be advertised in the press and open to fair competition unless in emergencies which do not apply in this case.

It appears that City Solicitor Hennessey has expressed the opinion that it is allowable to purchase automobiles without permitting competition and by simply specifying the kind of machine wanted by the head of the department. We do not believe it requires a lawyer to see that any such course must be held as in direct contravention of the provisions of the city charter.

If the street department or the water department wants an automobile the proper mode of procedure under the charter is to specify the power, the size, the number of seats and other particulars upon which different automobile companies could base their bids for furnishing a machine suitable to the requirements of the case.

Before automobiles came into general use the superintendent of the street department was satisfied with a two-seated wagon but now it appears that an automobile with four or more seats is required. What is the need of having an auto of this seating capacity for any department? Why should not a number of any make with two seats serve the superintendent of any municipal department?

The municipal council may as well make up its mind that if it attempts to evade the provisions of the charter it will incur the severe condemnation of the public at large. And as for the city solicitor it is plain that his professional standing is involved in the interpretation of the charter. The Sun cannot agree with the city solicitor in approving any course that would shut out open competition in the purchase of automobiles. It is clearly a violation of the charter which the city solicitor should be first to notice and condemn rather than to approve and defend.

That one of the noted women speakers who was to appear in this city cancelled her engagement owing to the illness of a daughter was a pretty strong contradiction of the claims of those who declare that as "woman's place is the home" suffrage is not advisable. Yet in all probability the crank will answer this argument by saying that had she stayed home in the first place the daughter would not have been ill. Taken all in all the local campaign waged by the women was a dignified and desirable one, all the more striking from the recent antics of the wild women of England.

The re-election of Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan on the vote of four out of five of the municipal body was an expression of confidence that is typical of the attitude of the public generally. When vague charges were made some time ago against the assessors and followed through for want of evidence, the public was not misled, believing that the charges were made as a political play pure and simple. To make such charges is extremely simple, but luckily most public officials refrain from so doing.

There is no cause for public regret owing to the alleged silence of the assessors on both the Stordard and the Empress of Ireland regarding the cause of the recent tragedy. The public will not profit much by the disclosures of this nature but in time all the testimony required will be given before a board of experts. Neither silence and other excuses as did those who looked on admiringly. The hard of the tragedy—and the facts will get part of the preparation was over and the reward came in the constituted admiration of those who applauded and admired.

One has heard a great deal about those whose savings were temporarily tied up in the Traders bank but what of the thousands who are saving steadily and prospering? Only the fact that quite a few boys grumble at the exertion required for perfection in the drill, and strive to avoid field day by specious excuse. This attitude is due to thoughtlessness for any healthy boy or girl must feel pardonable pride in being a factor in such a splendid exhibition. Unfortunately there is a feeling of independence growing up among boys and girls that is manifesting itself in curious ways. The high school student who is a new unto himself is by no means uncommon, and occasionally one finds a specimen who would like high school very much if he did not have to drill, or march in parades, or study. REVIVING OLD SONGS

The old songs of our mothers' day will be popular in Massachusetts again if the present campaign of the municipal department of the State Federation of Women's clubs is successful. Under the direction of Mrs. Edward H. PINEAPPLE SYRUP ETHER

State chemists have discovered a new terror for Boston firemen. It is nothing more or less than pineapple syrup. A recent fire in the business district was the cause of overhauling a score of firemen in the basement of the building. The men all declared that noxious fumes attacked them and they knew no more until they revived on the sidewalks and in the hospital.

On investigation it was found that the pineapple syrup stored in cans in the cellar when coming in contact with the heat and water formed an ether which overpowered the men. One district chief remarked after the discovery that he was always fond of pineapple syrup, but he got his fill at the fire that will last him the rest of his life.

PICTURES OF OLD RECORDS

While at the state house recently, remarks Observant Citizen in the Boston Post, I noticed photographers making pictures of old records in the archive rooms.

I learned that the camera men are federal agents who have been commissioned by the government to make copies of all the old records and valuable historical documents pertaining to the war of the revolution, now to be found in the state house. One consulted the 13 original colonies.

By photography, exact counterparts of these priceless papers, long treasured in the archives of the commonwealth, are being secured. As fast as photographs are completed, they are shipped direct to Washington to be stored away in the state, war and navy building vaults.

PERFECT MAN AND WOMAN

For some thousands of years the name Venus has stood for the perfect type of beauty and womanly figure. Artists have raved over the perfection of her lines and measurements, famous beauties of all periods have been compared with her, the expression that a woman "rivals Venus herself" has come to mean that she approaches the pinnacle of loveliness, but until a Chicago tailor measured a statue of the goddess in the art institute no one knew what length skirt she would wear if she were alive today.

The measurements of the famous marble representations of the goddess of beauty and love—such as the Venus of Milo and the Venus di Medici—have been published from time to time, but until Chicago showed its characteristic enterprise no one knew what size dress she would wear. Now, after looking at the figures the tailor recorded on his card, one may judge whether or not any of our modern women approach the ancient ideal of beauty.

The modern ideal woman should wear a dress made with the accompanying measurements if she is to wear the same size dress that would clothe comfortable the Venus di Medici.

The tailor's measurements of the statue, which, of course, do not agree with the measurements of the dress because the latter follows the lines of the modern garments—are as follows:

Neck12 1/2	Calf14
Bust34 1/2	Ankle8 1/2
Waist27 1/2	Upper arm11 1/2
Hips36 1/2	Lower arm11 1/2
Thigh21 1/2	Wrist6 1/2

This statue is five feet one inch in height. Just as Venus has been a standard by which perfection of form in woman has been measured, just so Apollo for ages has represented the ideal male form. The tailor's measurements of the Apollo Chiosel Gouffier in the art institute gave the following results:

Neck16	Calf16 1/2
Chest42	Ankle10 1/2
Waist34	Upper arm13 1/2
Hips41 1/2	Lower arm13 1/2
Thigh26	Wrist9 1/2

The Apollo is six feet two inches in height. The measurements for a suit that would be worn by Apollo if the ancient god were to come to life again may be seen in the accompanying table.

These then are the measurements of the ideals of the Greek sculptors. A modern person whose tailor's card shows figures resembling the above may feel sure that he or she approaches the ancient ideal.—Chicago Tribune.

Who are the empire-builders? They whose desperate arrogance demands a self-reflecting power to sway a hundred little selfish lands? Lord God of battles! ere we bow To these and to their soulless lust, Let fall thy thunders on us now And strike us equal to the dust!

Before the stars in heaven were made Our great Commander led us forth And now the embattled lines are laid To east, to west, to south, to north; According as of old He planned We take our station in the field. Nor dare to dream we understand The splendor of the swords we wield.

We know not what the Soul behind That lives and moves behind our deeds; We wheel and march to glorious ends Beyond the common soldier's needs; And some are raised to high rewards.

And some by regiments are hurled To die upon the opposing swords And sleep, forgotten by the world.

And not where navies churn the foam, Nor called to fields of fierce surprise, In many a country cottage home The empire-builder lives and dies; Or through the roaring street he goes.

A lean and weary City slave, The conqueror of a thousand foes, Who walks, unheeded, to his grave. Leaders unknown of hopes forlorn Go past us in the daily mart With many a shadowy crown of thorn And many a kindly broken heart; Though England's banner overhead Ever the secret signal flows, We only see the cross is red As children see the skies are blue.

For all are empire-builders here Whose hearts are true to heaven and home, And year by year revolving year, Fulfill the duties as they come. So simple seems the task, and yet Many for this are crucified; Aye, and their brother men forget The simple wounds in pain and side.

For hearts that to their home are true, Where the tides of power may flow, Have built a kingdom great and new Which time nor Fate shall overthrow. These are the empire-builders, these, Annex where none shall say them nay, Beyond the world's uncharted seas, Realms that can never pass away.

—Alfred Noyes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

STILL THEY COME

We have received the "Souvenir edition" of the Lowell Sun (Lowell, Mass.) the occasion of its issue being the installation of the newspaper in its new home, with its lightning sextuple press built for the Sun by R. Hoe & Co. of New York and London, with a description of the building, the press, and everything connected therewith. The capacity of the mammoth sextuple, lightning, web-perfecting press, which has a capacity running all the way from four-page up to 48-page papers at a speed depending upon the number of pages from 18,000 to 72,000 an hour, it seems almost incredible that any machine could print papers at such a speed, but the new Sun press will do all of this, and more. During a special trial run after the press was erected, the machine ran for quite a period at the rate of 78,000 12-page papers an hour, which is about 22 complete 12-page papers a second. It is almost beyond the comprehension of the human mind to realize that a machine will take paper from the rolls, print it on both sides, cut it into pages, insert them, fold them, and pile these 12-page papers up in bundles of 50 each at the rate of from 20 to 22 papers a second.

While the press is the great big unit in a newspaper plant there are many other machines of wonderful construction necessary in the production of the modern newspaper. There is the linotype machine, which is unquestionably one of the great inventions of the century. The linotypes in all the large offices of the country are entirely different from those with which they started 20 or 25 years ago, when they went from hand composition to machine composition. And so with the "making up" improvements, the stereotyping improvements, and all the other improvements that go to make up the modern daily newspaper. It would be wearisome to undertake to mention, let alone to describe them, for the general reader, for the inmates and employees of the different offices, themselves do not understand their uses and operation aside from the experts in the different departments. Besides, it would be useless, for after all the various and wonderful material improvements, there is the mind to be considered that evolved them all, and without which they could not have been, and which controls them all—each of the many busy units necessary in a modern printing establishment, and especially in the production of a daily newspaper from the largest metropolitan daily to the humblest in the land.—Oregon Statesman, Salem, Ore.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE

The Lowell (Mass.) Sun, one of the five, enterprising newspapers in the eastern part of the state, celebrated its 35th anniversary by moving into a handsome ten-story building. The Sun was started as a weekly 35 years ago and in 1892 was changed to a daily and its record since then has been one of increasing prosperity. In observing the anniversary the Sun issued a finely illustrated "souvenir" edition. The Sun is owned by John H. Harrington, one of Lowell's prominent citizens. —Publishers' Auxiliary.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Have you seen the wonderful array of colored wigs that are being worn this week by the women players of the Merrimack Square Theatre? If you have not then be sure and avail yourself of the opportunity. It is the first time they have been used on a local stage and they prove quite a novelty. They should be interesting to the women folk. The play "The Ironmaster" is one of the most interesting and most enterprising of the high-class dramas of the present day. Performances after-noon and night. Telephone 2953.

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"The Squaw Man" in 262 scenes, and played by 127 actors, is the splendid motion picture feature at the D. F. Keith theatre, today. The play, "The Squaw Man," is one of the very best of younger leading men, is in the role of William Carston, the young Englishman who assumed the guilt of his cousin and fled to America. The play is in extreme, one of the best being the rescue of "Carston" by "Nat-U-Ritch" from Death Hole. Another stirring scene is the death of the Earl of Swiss Hill, who falls over a cliff in the Swiss Alps. Such attention to detail as is shown in this photographing is full indeed. The supporting company of Mr. Farnum is first class in every particular, and patrons who have seen the six reels of pictures are highly delighted with them. Featuring a marvellous "Brewster's Millions" will be shown in the leading role, which is shown in the theatre. The seats are 10 and 15 cents, with children admitted for five cents.

THE OWL THEATRE
"The Path of Sorrows" is the title of the three-part Warner feature to be shown today and tomorrow. It is a clear and convincing manner, acted by a fine cast, and is photographed with all the skill known to these Warner photographers. Many other good pictures, forming the regular "Pathe" series, are being shown. A feature entitled "The Ambassadors' Envoy," being of genuine interest. "Peacock Feather Fan" is an instructive picture, telling the comedy and tragedy of the bill will be "Shookumby" "Tinkle Mary Jane" and "Shookumby" plenty of dash and action. The mirror scene, the slide scene, and the direct current form an attractive combination for lovers of clear, flickerless photo-plays. Jack Dalton will continue to please patrons with his singing of popular ballads.

High School Field Day the Best Ever Held--The Prize Winners

The thirty-third annual Field Day of the High School Boys' regiment and Girls' battalions yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park will be long remembered by the four thousand interested spectators who witnessed the various evolutions as one of the prettiest events of its kind ever held and in point of achievement was the most successful. Several new features were introduced yesterday which lent an even more pleasing picture to the eyes than in past years. The results came too late for yesterday's late edition of The Sun.

From the moment the crowded stands first greeted the marching cadets of the High School regiment as they wound their way into the grounds in columns of fours until the awarding of the prizes for the individual and company competition there was not a dull moment for the spectators. Eleven well executed numbers, all of which reflected great credit upon Miss Margaret Teague, the instructor of the girls, and Lieut. Thomas A. Doyle, the boys' military supervisor, made up the afternoon program. From two o'clock until after six o'clock the football diamond in front of the grandstand was occupied by either the High School boys or girls in their various evolutions which they have been steadily drilled in during the past school year.

The two boys most proficient in the manual of arms was one of deep interest to everyone. There were 16 entries this year who marched out on to the greenward when the call for this number was made.

The squad was gradually thinned down by the judges. Capt. Walter R. Jones, Co. C, Sixth Infantry, Captain Frederick C. Keen, Co. F, Fifth Infantry, Wolburn, and First Lieut. Edward J. Connolly, Co. A, Sixth Infantry, were introduced yesterday which lent an even more pleasing picture to the eyes than in past years. The results came too late for yesterday's late edition of The Sun.

Penalties Go to Cos. K and I
In the competition between the companies for highest military efficiency Company K was awarded the blue pennant or first prize with Company I the winner of the red pennant or second prize. Captain Reginald H. Harris commanded Company K while Capt. George Love issued the orders to Company I. Company G was declared the best appearing body of schoolboy soldiers and its leader, Capt. John A. Walsh, was presented with a beautifully engraved sword.

Novel Evolutions
The members of the first battalion carried Indian clubs while those of the second carried the drill wands. After assuming their position both battalions opened ranks. They were followed shortly by the boys' battalions led by the Sixth Regiment band, playing a lively march. The regimental life and drum corps halted directly in front of the grandstand. The boys' surrounded the girls on three sides, the formation putting a most striking appearance. At the call of the opening feature, the salute to the flag, this feature being presented for the first time at field day exercises. Then the two color sergeants bearing the flags took a position in the center. The regiment immediately presented arms and the girls faced the colors. The band then struck up the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the entire audience arose and the music portion uncovered. The scene presented was both inspiring and impressive, and will long be remembered by all who had the good fortune to witness it. At the conclusion of the salute the flag and drum corps struck up a martial air and the girls moved from the parade ground departing by the right while the boys went away by the left, all in column of fours.

Individual Prize Drill
Sixteen privates and non-commissioned officers in command of Second Battalion Adjutant Herbert H. Taylor led them on to the field as competitors in the individual prize drill. The latter took place in front of the grandstand. Capt. Walter R. Jones, Co. G, Sixth Infantry; Capt. Frederick C. Keen, Co. F, Fifth Infantry; First Lieutenant Edward J. Connolly, Co. A, Sixth Infantry. The members of the first school committee were in the press box and as the competitors marched on the field Simpson proudly drew forth a small silver medal which he won as second prize in the second individual prize drill held by the High School regiment in Huntington hall and the first prize, a gold medal, was won by Arthur J. Connock, who afterward, in 1888, was colonel of the regiment and subsequently the great Harvard football player.

GRAND JURY SESSION ON CRIMINAL CASES

Forgery Charge in Connection With Hospital Site Considered —Verdict in Case of O'Dowd vs. St. Railway Co.

The grand jury convened at the court house in Gorham street this morning for the consideration of criminal cases in this district. The principal case brought for their consideration at this session was that of Thomas F. O'Dowd, charged with forgery in connection with initiative proceedings on the contagious hospital site.

The witnesses summoned to the court house today to testify in this case were: Sergt. Petrie, City Clerk Flynn, Walter Gayette, James McCarthy, Michael Carroll, Patrick Connolly and J. H. Boardman, an expert in handwriting.

Civil Court
In the civil session of the superior court late yesterday afternoon the case of Henry J. O'Dowd vs. the Bay State Street Railway company was taken from the jury and a verdict ordered for the defendant. Mr. O'Dowd sued for damages to his automobile which he claimed was injured in a collision with one of the company cars. The company denied responsibility for the accident.

There was no case ready at the opening of the civil session this morning and accordingly the court broke down for the forenoon. Justice Fox excused the jurors until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Jury Waived Session
In the jury waived session, Justice Sanderson presiding, the case of Saterlone vs. Alex. Kozias and James Stornaras, an action for the recovery of an alleged loan of $151.75, which the plaintiff alleges he made for the recovery of an alleged loan of $151.75, which the plaintiff alleges he made to the defendants, claiming both were co-partners in a business in Market street. One of the defendants, Stornaras is now in the old country, and the other defendant refused to pay the money on the grounds that the said money was loaned to Stornaras and he also denied that any partnership existed between the two. J. Murphy appeared for the defendant and Lawyer Stone of Boston for the plaintiff. After hearing the evidence, Justice Sanderson reserved his decision to a later date.

MAN GOT NINE MONTHS For Conducting Disorderly House on Cross Street—House Raided Last Night

As a result of the raid made by the police at 135 Cross street last evening, Demetrius Stofos was committed to the Lowell jail for nine months on two complaints charging him with unlawfully keeping liquor with intent to sell and with keeping a house of ill fame. Charles Anagnostis was ordered to pay a fine of $15 for a statutory offense. Emma Mercier was placed on probation, and Ethel M. Parker, charged with leading a few life, was held until tomorrow morning so that her parents, who reside in Concord, N. H., could testify as to her conduct in the past.

Judge Pickman presided at the session this forenoon, and when the above matter was argued, all four pleaded guilty to the charges against them. Stofos stated that he had conducted the lodging house on Cross street for the past four months, a part of the time being in co-partnership with a fellow countryman. He came here over eight years ago and claims that he has worked in a hotel mill steadily ever since. He admitted that he had kept a house of ill repute for the past two or three months and also said that he had liquor on side for the people he entertained. The court ordered him sent to jail for six months on the charge of keeping a house of ill fame and for three months for illegally keeping liquor on the premises.

Mrs. Emma Mercier testified that she came to Lowell from Manchester, N. H., a few weeks ago and visited all of the local mills in an attempt to secure work and having found in vain for some time ran across a woman, who directed her to this house on Cross street where she applied for a position as house girl. The woman said that she was given the position upon applying and that she had worked there a little over a week when arrested. She stated that she had led an immoral life during her stay there. Mrs. Mercier claims to have two children in Manchester and upon promising that she would go back to the Queen City she was placed on probation.

The other girl, Ethel M. Parker, said that she was also taken into the house as a chamber maid but after she had been there a few days she realized the kind of place she was in. She claims to have come here from Concord, N. H., and as her parents are anxious to give evidence in her case she was held in the sum of $200 until tomorrow morning. Charles Anagnostis, statutory offense, was asked to pay the minimum fine of $15.

Row on South Common
Some sort of a row occurred on the South common yesterday afternoon and as a result James F. Ganley was brought into court charged with assault and battery upon Bernard J. Meahan, who accused Ganley of pushing between his eyes while he claims was received by a blow from Ganley's fist. The stories told by the two concerned conflicting and Judge Pickman ordered the case continued till tomorrow for further investigation.

The complainant said that yesterday he met the defendant in a lunch room on South street and when he walked out and started across the common the defendant followed him. The witness stated that he sat down on the grass on the east side of the common and Ganley came behind him and attempted to steal his watch and "sawey" Meahan said that when he refused to turn over the watch and coin, the defendant struck him on the nose and put his hands in his pockets. He said that he never saw Ganley before yesterday.

The defendant claims that he spent a part of Monday afternoon with Meahan and that he visited his complainant's room in French street. "Yesterday noon," said Ganley, "I went to a lunch room on South street and saw Meahan there. He was drunk and was put out by the proprietor, and waited on the sidewalk until I came out. Then we walked out the common together. We sat down with three other men and Meahan pulled out his watch and wanted someone to give it to him and one of the fellows got into a scuffle and I tried to stop them." The court then ordered the case continued until tomorrow morning.

Other Cases
The case of George Head, charged with larceny of one chair from Peter Maquire on December 1, was continued until tomorrow forenoon. Elmer E. Dearborn was taxed $5 for his second appearance for drunkenness and John Meahan was asked to pay a similar sum.

WISHES OF J. P. MORGAN WERE NEVER OPPOSED

J.S. Elton, Director of New Haven Road, so Testifies at Inter-state Commerce Commission Inquiry—Was Told New Haven's Charter Allowed it to do Almost Anything

WASHINGTON, June 3.—J. S. Elton, a director of the New Haven road, was the first witness called today when inquiry into that system's financial affairs was resumed before the inter-state commerce commission.

Chief Counsel Joseph W. Folk began the examination of the witness presented several telegrams bearing on the New Haven's payments of money to newspapers and other publications. Among them, he said, were many payments manifestly for legitimate advertising. Most of the payments referred to were already of record. In all, he added, several hundred publications were paid, among them he named two Boston papers. Efforts to secure the attendance of J. W. Atwater of Boston and a man named Doyle, who had sent some of the telegrams he said had been unproductive.

William Skinner, another director, and Laurence Minor, a member of the board, during a part of the time Charles S. Elton was president, also were ready to testify.

Mr. Elton said he was present at the meeting at which Messrs. Morgan, Rockefeller and Miller were appointed a committee in the New York, Westchester & Boston transaction and also when they reported.

"What was your opinion of their advertising spending over $11,000,000 for the road?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I would not say that I felt it was unnecessary, but that it was extravagant," he replied.

"Were you surprised?"

"I think I was but I had absolute confidence in Messrs. Morgan, Rockefeller and Miller."

"Who was the dominating feature at the board meetings?"

"I think Mr. Morgan was."

"Did not the board usually acquiesce in the recommendations made by J. P. Morgan?"

"Yes."

Mr. Elton declared that he remembered no instance where the wishes of Mr. Morgan were opposed.

Wishes of Morgan Respected
"After Morgan left the meetings were any objections made by directors against some of his wishes?"

"Oh, amongst themselves, they would probably object."

"Did Mr. Morgan make any statement of value of securities acquired for the $11,000,000?"

"Not that I remember."

Mr. Elton said he did not recall anything about the 8000 shares of stock of the New Haven turned over to Mr. Mellen with which to acquire 24,000 shares of Westchester stock as testified by Mr. Mellen. He said he knew nothing of the transactions with Police Inspector Byrnes except as he had read the testimony of Mr. Mellen.

The witness said he had expressed disapproval of the expenditure of $20,000 for taking over the Rhode Island trolleys but had not voted against it.

"Why did you not stick to your disapproval?"

"I don't know why I did not stick to it."

"Did Mr. Mellen propose the acquisition of the trolleys?"

"I think he did."

Carried Out Instructions
"Why were you afraid to make objections at the meetings?"

"Natural timidity, I suppose. You see I did not pretend to be a railroad man and when Mr. Morgan and Mr. Mellen said do a thing I had confidence in them."

"You paid $20,000,000 for a property that admittedly was worth $5,000,000 and was encumbered to the extent of about what you paid for it?" suggested Mr. Folk.

"Yes," replied Mr. Elton, "that's about it."

"Did you protest against the deal?"

"I thought then the price was too high and I think so now."

"Were the other directors as timid as you?" asked Mr. Folk.

"No," said Mr. Elton, and added that William Skinner at times expressed disapproval in the presence of Morgan.

Mr. Elton said he was a director also of the New England Navigation Co. Asked if he could tell the difference between a meeting of one board and a meeting of the other, he replied:

"Well, the same men were on both boards. One was called the New Haven meeting and the other the navigation company. We just passed from one to the other."

Was Always Confused
"Were you confused at times and unable to tell which board meeting you were attending?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I was always confused. I am hard of hearing and they went so fast I could not keep up."

"Did any of the directors at the meetings ever ask if any of the transactions connected with the acquisition or consolidation of trolley concerns were in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law?"

"Yes, I did sometimes."

"What answer did you get?"

"I was told that the New Haven's charter from the state of Connecticut allowed it to do almost anything."

"Who said that?"

"Counsel for the company, E. D. Robbins."

Mr. Elton said he did not know the subsidiaries of the New Haven numbered 355 and added that when he sought information as to the operations of those companies and other matters in connection with them he did not meet with much success.

Never Understood Billard Co.
Questioned regarding the John L. Billard Co.'s transactions, Mr. Elton said:

"I never understood the Billard company matters."

Asked as to the transactions involving 100,000 shares of Boston & Maine stock in which there was a profit of $2,765,700, Mr. Elton testified it was his understanding at the time that the profit belonged to the New Haven road and not to Billard.

Mr. Folk read the minutes of a meeting of the directors on Oct. 5, 1909, which showed the New Haven was to get the profit from the deal except a reasonable compensation to Mr. Billard for his services. Mr. Elton said he thought the minutes were correct and that they expressed his understanding of what took place.

"What was your understanding as to what Mr. Billard was to get, and of the transaction?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Only that he was to have a reasonable profit."

"Was there any discussion of the amount of the profit by the board?"

"That was left to the executive committee."

Massachusetts Trolleys
"What do you know about the purchase of the Massachusetts trolleys?"

"They were bought before I became a director of the board."

"But after you went on the board the question of the legality of owning these trolleys came up, didn't it?"

"Yes."

"Wasn't the New England Investment & Security Co. formed then to hold these lines?"

"There were so many of these companies I could not keep up with them."

Mr. Elton added he had bought $10,000 worth of stock of the investment company at the request of Mr. Mellen and that later he had turned the shares over to Mr. Mellen for the latter's personal character.

MEMBERS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OFF ON TOUR

To Springfield—Story Has it That Aldermen Will Close Bargain on Knox Automobile for Fire Chief—New Shooting Regulations

All members of the municipal council, with the exception of the mayor, went to Springfield today and they do tell that it's a case of more automobiles. In the olden days a trip like this would have been referred to as a junket.

If this year's government has made any improvement over the government which it succeeded, it is not in the purchase of automobiles. Commissioner Brown claims that the requisitions for automobiles and the purchase of them have been irregular, but Mr. Brown is one of the party today.

Mayor Murphy was not at his office this forenoon, but his private secretary, Mr. John Cull, said that the mayor was not out of town. Mr. Cull was very positive that the mayor did not go to Springfield with the rest of the "bunch."

It was stated that the party included Commissioners Carmichael, Donnelly, Brown and Morse; Fire Chief Saunders, City Solicitor Hennessy, and others—perhaps. The party went in two machines, the new Jeffry, recently purchased for the street department, and another.

It is alleged that the trip has to do with the purchase of an automobile for the chief of the fire department and Chief Saunders wants a Knox. Bids for an automobile for the fire chief were called for early in May and four bids were received, the Knox Co. included. The contract was not awarded and the trip to Springfield today, it is stated, was made ostensibly for the purpose of buying a Knox machine. By what authority a purchase could be made in this fashion will probably be inquired into later.

New Shooting Regulations
There's to be a new target representing a man's head and shoulders, life size, installed at the rifle range in Dracut. Capt. George W. Peterson has informed Commissioner Donnelly of the new shooting regulations adopted by the state military authorities requiring the creation of a new target designated as target B. The commissioner told Capt. Peterson that he would install the target and safeguards as soon as possible.

The putting in of the new target is made necessary because of the changes in shooting. There is to be no more shooting off hand at 200 yards, but in its stead there will be instruction practice and record practice.

Capt. Peterson stated very emphatically that the new target would not be a bull's-eye nor a big target 8 by 6 feet in size and representing the shape of a man's head and shoulders. It would seem that this target is meant to save the cartridge.

Marksmen shooting at the new target from the 200 yard line will do so sitting or kneeling and at the 300, 500 or 600 points the men will shoot at it prone. The new regulations require that the target sight shall be used. The regulations are as follows: From the 200 yard point, 10 shots in one minute and a half; 300 yards, ten shots in two minutes; and in either case no time will be allowed for inserting the cartridge clip.

The individual is entitled to record practice only three times a season and then his work must be done under the supervision of a capable and thoroughly qualified commissioned officer. No coaching will be allowed at the record shoot.

The United States will supply the decorations for marksmen to those worthy of them and the state will continue to supply expert marksmen's badges to those firing at 500 and 1000 yards and who make 75 out of a possible 100.

Barbers on the Carpet
Between 25 and 30 barbers appeared before the board of health at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon to listen to a few kind words by the board. Board of health inspectors made a tour of the barber shops recently and found that while a majority of the shops were living up to the rules and regulations as laid down by the board, there were others who were not very "fussy." The rules require that the barber shop, together with all the furniture, shall be kept at all times in a cleanly condition; that mugs, shaving brushes and razors shall be sterilized by immersion in boiling water after each separate use thereof. A separate clean towel shall be used for each person and alum or other material used to stop the flow of blood can be used only in powdered form and applied on a towel. The sceptic stick, so-called, is barred and this little stick played quite an important part at the meeting. The rules also prohibit the use of powder puffs and sponges. The rules further require that every barber shop shall be provided with running hot and cold water, said hot water to be furnished through a pressure boiler. And, last but not least, it is required that every barber shall cleanse his hands thoroughly immediately after serving each customer. If the inspectors had paid strict attention to this little "shall" a great many of the barbers in Lowell would have had to walk the carpet yesterday afternoon. The shops of a great many of the men who appeared before the board yesterday are not supplied with running hot and cold water. The barbers were told what they would have to do and they agreed to do it.

BEGS REBELS NOT TO ATTACK ZACATECAS

Federal Commander Sends Second Appeal to Constitutionalists—The Mediators Appeal to Carranza to Participate in Sessions—Mexican Delegates Announce That Huerta is Preparing to Resign

TORREON, Mexico, June 3.—General Luis Baron, federal commander at Zacatecas has sent a second appeal to General Pantoja Natera, begging him not to attack that city because he had received advices from the war department at Mexico City that Huerta was about to resign. Natera answered that he would not attack but that he would prevent the retreat of the federals by cutting the railroad to Aguas Calientes.

Constitutionalist leaders assert they have information from Mexico City that General Blanquet, war minister, and the provisional president had quarreled over the evacuation of Saltillo.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Members of Board of Trade Hear Interesting Reports — Election of Officers

The annual meeting of the members of the Lowell board of trade was held last night at the board's rooms in Central street and the affair proved very interesting. There were over 100 members present and considerable business was transacted. The secretary, John H. Murphy, submitted a lengthy report on the doings of the organization during the past year and the doument was very interesting and it was evident by the work accomplished that the officers of the board were wide awake during the entire year. Committee reports were also read and the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mr. Robert F. Marden, who is now in London, being elected president.

In the absence of the president, Geo. M. Harrigan, the meeting was called to order by Patrick O'Hearn, third vice president. The president officer took occasion to bring to the attention of the meeting a few facts concerning the work of the board during the past 12 months, and he paid a flattering compliment to President Harrigan and Secretary Murphy for their untiring efforts in bringing the organization to such a high standard.

Secretary Murphy's Report

Secretary John H. Murphy read his annual report, and although it was a lengthy document, it was heard with much interest. The report was in part as follows: The office of the board is really the general information bureau of the city. The service rendered the public varies widely and requires considerable time. The inquiries concerning information of business houses and commercial opportunities are answered and many prospective customers, from all over the world, were referred to Lowell manufacturers and jobbers. The details of the office work requiring the attention of the secretary can be summarized as follows: 1284 people called at the office on various matters, 1569 telephone calls were answered and 5582 pieces of mail were received and 10,172 letters were sent from the office.

Meetings During this year the board has held eight meetings of the entire membership and the directors have held meetings, while the executive committee has been in session weekly. There board was held on Nov. 11th, 1913, at which time Mr. Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association was the speaker of the evening. The meeting was well attended and the address of Mr. Wentworth very interesting.

New Year's Meeting

The largest meeting in the history of the organization was held at the Lowell armory on January 21st, 1914, the occasion being the New Year's meeting of the board. It is estimated that more than 500 members were present and enjoyed the program of the evening.

Preceding the dinner the members inspected a collection of Philip Philip-poteau paintings. The guests and speakers of the evening were William J. Burns, president of the International Detective association, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, mayor of Lowell, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association and Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson. The meeting was a complete success by those present and the affair stands as one of the most successful events conducted by the organization.

Income Tax Meeting

The very intricate and confusing sections of the new income tax laws were the subject of discussion led by Mr. Olaf Olsen, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Boston on February 20th, 1914. The meeting was well attended and proved interesting and instructive.

Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade was held in Associate hall, March 5, 1914, and attended by more than 300 members.

The speaker of the evening was United States Senator John W. Weeks, who discussed national legislation concerning currency. Hon. Dennis J. Murphy also responded to a toast "The City of Lowell."

Membership

There are 611 members who have paid their 1914 assessment. 123 members who have paid their 1913 assessment who will remit 1914 assessment before the close of the year and there are 81 members who paid 1912 who we hope will pay during 1914. This brings

JOHN H. MURPHY, Secretary

have been 35 committee meetings held during the year.

The board had the honor during the year of having as guests, John W. Weeks, U. S. senator, John Jacob Rogers, congressman, William J. Burns, president of the International Detective agency, Alfred W. Cutting, representing Sheldon efficiency system, Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association, Olaf Olsen, assistant cashier First National bank, Gardner W. Pearson, Adjutant General of Massachusetts, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the Boston & Maine railroad, Hon. James H. O'Donnell and Hon. D. J. Murphy.

Annual Outing

The usual summer outing of the board was conducted in the form of an inspection day at the new Billerica car shops.

A special train conveyed about 400 members of the board of trade of Greater Lowell to the shops where a dinner was served and a tour of inspection of the mammoth plant enjoyed by the members.

The guests on this occasion were the following: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Hon. James H. O'Donnell, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the plant, W. H. Sealey, manager of the New England Lines Industrial bureau, Carl B. Smith, F. C. Sheppard, T. J. Coffin, engineers of the Boston & Maine railroad, and Robert H. Newcomb, publicity agent of the B. & M. R. R.

A very interesting speech concerning the history of the Boston & Maine railroad was delivered by Hon. John Jacob Rogers on this occasion.

Fire Prevention Meeting

In connection with the board's movement, in conducting a fire prevention and clean up week, a meeting of the total membership on our rolls, after revising the list to date, to 525.

New Industries A very important function of board of trade work is the securing of new industries and the conserving of established industries.

The following firms located in Lowell during the year: Rink Piano company, manufacturers of pianos, occupying about 2,000 square feet of floor space, employing 100.

George E. Deuble Company, cotton goods manufacturers, occupying 10,000 square feet of floor space, employing 50 people.

Many propositions were investigated by the secretary and special committee, but it was found that capital as well as location was desired by many of these firms.

Billerica B. & M. Railroad Shops

During the year the extensive Billerica railroad shops of the Boston & Maine railroad began operations, and it is safe to say that this new industry is the largest that has located in New England within the past five years. The increase in general business and the influx of well paid mechanics and their families to our city are the true tokens of reward for the very arduous and successful work accomplished by the officers and committees of the board in bringing about the location of these shops within Greater Lowell.

It is an inspiring significance as to the future development of the city to witness the daily arrival of the heavily loaded work train of fourteen cars and to see the hundreds of mechanics and their way to their homes, a guarantee of both increased business and population.

Housing Billerica Employees

The board, upon the recommendation of the executive committee, after consulting with the Boston & Maine officials and the real estate men of the city, decided to compile a list of available tenements and rooms to rent in the city. The real estate dealers furnished a list of all the property available and the Lowell city's committee and the Electric Light company furnished a list of houses where meters had been removed, which was an indication of an idle tenement. This information was tabulated and a copy put on file in accordance with a card index system showing the rental, number of rooms, distances from school and street car line, the name of the owner, restrictions, if any, and the place at which the key could be located for inspection of the same.

Merrimack River Development

The question of the development of the Merrimack river has occupied the attention of the board. The water-way committee has very efficiently attended to the many details concerning the progress of work of the development scheme of the river.

To the Lowell board of trade belongs the credit for the very successful work accomplished in connection with the favorable consideration given the report of the Merrimack valley water-way board by the legislature.

Visits of Committees

tees on national rivers and harbors of the house of representatives paid a visit to Lowell and inspected the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea.

Visits and tours of inspection were also made by the Merrimack valley water-way board, the harbors and lands commission of Massachusetts, and the legislative committee on rivers and harbors. Statistics tending to show the importance of the development of the river were prepared and presented to each of the commissions on the occasion of their visits to the city.

Middlesex Street Grade Crossing

The resurrected question of the elimination of the Middlesex street grade crossing was again the subject of discussion by committees of the board. The board was represented at hearings held before Justice McLaughlin of the superior court in reference to the appointment of a commission to pass upon the question of the elimination of the crossing. The board was also represented at two hearings held before the appointed commission, and statistics dealing with traffic conditions at the crossing were presented at the hearings.

Fire Prevention

The committee has advocated the holding of clean-up and fire prevention weeks and by means of published proclamations and bulletins of fire prevention methods have successfully created a spirit of helpfulness on the part of the people of the city to keep the yards, homes and streets free from refuse and other causes of fire.

During the week of Nov. 4, 1913, and April 18, 19 and 20, 1914, and during the week of May 4 in accordance with the plan of the New England clean-up and paint-up campaign, much good was accomplished by means of co-operative work on the part of the people of the city.

Inspection of Lowell

The committee invited the national board of underwriters to re-inspect the city with a purpose in view of having the benefit of the suggestion of the engineers of the national board. Many of the recommendations made by these engineers in 1908 have already been put in force.

The re-inspection was made during April and the report and recommendations are awaited anxiously by the committee.

If a favorable report is rendered it is quite possible that a movement calling for a reduction in fire insurance rates will be made. The committee will endeavor to have the new recommendations carried out.

In Memoriam

It was the sad experience of the year's record that the following members who were loyal in their co-operation and assistance passed away: Patrick Conlon, Abel Wheeler, Thomas H. Lawler, Dr. Chas. E. Snyder, Patrick Gilbride.

Local Newspapers

A deep sense of appreciation and gratitude is expressed to the newspapers of the city and their representatives who have so cordially co-operated in the many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many of the details of the board's work and the successful culmination of many matters depending upon the support of the community has thus been brought about.

The work for transportation, better street car service, Lowell day, exhibition of foreign cottons, the Lowell slogan contest, legislative matters, together with the meetings of the executive committee were dealt with at length.

Conclusion

The Lowell board of trade stands for progress, onward and upward and meets conditions with a fearless resolve to create enthusiasm among the people of the city and to attract strangers by a determination to place Lowell in the forefront of American cities.

The majority of members or people of the city are not aware of the vast amount of work that is being accomplished in an effort to make Lowell the best city in the world. The work is large and necessarily slow and hampered by reason of limited funds, but the spirit is at all times of the highest.

Lowell's advantages are many, opportunities abound, the future of Lowell was never brighter; then all together to share in the development and help the cause by always speaking a good word for the best place on earth, or remain silent.

The auditor's report showed that the organization on June 1, had a balance on hand of $1553.97. The total receipts for the year were $6156.62, while the expenditures amounted to $4214.65. This report was received with applause.

Auditor William F. Hills then reported for the board of auditors and his report was to the effect that the financial conditions of the organization are O. K.

Insurance Committee

The insurance and fire prevention committee through the chairman, Daniel F. Carroll, reported on their work which proved very satisfactory. The report stated that conferences have been held with the chiefs of the police and fire departments in reference to a clean-up campaign, and also with Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association.

The closing of the report was to the effect that the committee will continue to study local conditions and be prepared to carry out any recommendations made by the national board of underwriters in their report.

John H. Murphy reported for the city beautiful committee in place of Harvey B. Greene, who was unable to attend, and the report had much to do with the planting of trees in the school yards of the city. The members of this committee in their report also announced that they have declared war on the billboards which adorn the city and that they will resume activities to do away with them altogether.

Officers Elected

The following officers were elected: President, Robert F. Marden; first vice president, Patrick O'Hearn; second vice president, Frank Hanchett; third vice president, Harry Dunlap; treasurer, Edward B. Carney; auditor, William F. Hills; clerk, James C. Reilly. Honorary directors: Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, ex-President Jesse H. Sheppard, ex-President Walter S. Watson, ex-President Alonzo G. Walsh, ex-President Henry A. Smith, ex-President George M. Harrigan, ex-President George M. Barlow, Wm. H. Bolker, Otis W. Butler, Daniel F. Carroll, Harold L. Chalifoux, Milo D. Clay, Jesse D. Crook, Herford N. Elliott, Irving D. Fisher, Walter E. Guyette, Irving J. Mahoney, D. A. Macdonald, Clarence H. Nelson, Thomas J. O'Donnell, Wm. H. Penn, Frank Rieard, Will Rounds, Charles Runels, Arthur W. Saunders, Daniel W. Shanahan, Hon. John T. Sparks, George H. Taylor, Percy J. Wilson, representing Billerica, Rev. C. H. Williams, representing Tewksbury, Dr. H. N. Larrabee, representing Chelmsford, William J. Quikley, representing Westford, Edward Fisher.

A vote of thanks was extended the retiring officers and at the close of the meeting Secretary Murphy sent a telegram to the president-elect, Robert F. Marden, who is in London, informing him of his election.

MILITANT ATTACKS MAN WITH HATCHET

Rained a Shower of Blows on Man Who Tried to Prevent Her From Slashing Pictures—Two Others Horsewhip Doctor

LONDON, June 3.—The wild women again wreaked their vengeance on Dr. Francis Edward Porward, deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway jail. Two women armed with stout horsewhips sprang upon the doctor as he left the prison today and were thrashing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants. The women declared that their action was a protest against the "foreboding feeding for which this beast is responsible." Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct.

MILITANT MADE SAVAGE ATTACK ON ATTENDANT AT ART GALLERY

LONDON, June 3.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made today by a young militant suffragette on an attendant at the Dore gallery, who tried to prevent her from destroying the valuable pictures on exhibition there. The woman who thus abandoned the principle of the sanctity of human life, hitherto held up as one of the chief assets of the militant suffragettes, already had ruined two paintings in the gallery which is in new Bond street, the heart of the fashionable quarter of London. She was proceeding to hack a third picture when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm.

The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other attendants rushed to Bourlet's aid and quickly overpowered and disarmed the woman. She kicked, struggled and screamed for some minutes until she was handed over to the police. The woman evidently is educated and was stylishly dressed.

A letter was left in the Dore gallery by the assailant in which she said: "To stop this you must give us justice. We are willing to die for it before we give in. We have tried all other ways. We have been too lady-like in the past. Now we are going to fight and you can allow us to be killed. Others will arise to take our places. I have joined in the war." One of the pictures destroyed was "Love Wounded," a priceless engraving by Bartolozzi.

AT BOSTON UNIVERSITY

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO-DAY—UNVEIL PORTRAIT OF W. E.
HUNTINGTON

BOSTON, June 3.—An interesting feature of the commencement program at Boston university today was the unveiling of a portrait of William Edwards Huntington, former president of the institution. The portrait is a special gift of the class of 1917.

Justice William Renwick Riddell in the supreme court of Ontario came here to deliver the commencement oration to the graduating class.

Justice Riddell's Address

The participation of college men in public service was urged by Justice William Renwick Riddell of the supreme court of Ontario in an address before the graduating class of Boston university today.

Justice Riddell, "may have a high mission, a lofty outlook and he may be worthy of all praise; but there must be some to mingle with the people, to know their needs at first hand, to take an immediate and not simply a mediate part in directing their thoughts and their aspirations. Is that function to be left to the ward leader, to the boss who makes his living by it, to the party hack with no thought about the immediate success of some scheme?"

"Some one must lead, who is it to be? It should be a glory of a university that from its walls go forth the leaders of the people. The neighboring college which trained a Garfield, the venerable and historic elder across the way which gave this land a Roosevelt, and another state which produced a Taft or a Wilson did not crash in their midst the problems of government."

"All the problems of government have not been solved, many remain for the clearest thinking, the renunciation of prejudice, honest and sincere determination to do the thing that is right."

"How are we to settle international questions? Blood and agony and death cannot be the final argument. War is unhappily sometimes not only right but even a duty. In the general case, however, of international disputes war can no more be said to be necessary than it is necessary for two persons who have a dispute to fight it out with lance and club as was the custom centuries ago in England."

"We have four thousand miles of international boundary without a soldier or a fortification. The example of two such nations as the United States and Canada might well be followed by other nations in good time it must and will be followed."

PEASLEE MURDER

Police Think Man Was Hired to Kill Rich Toy
Maker

BENNIKER, N. H., June 3.—Private detectives and the selectmen yesterday centered their efforts to delving into the action of one man suspected of murdering Howard W. Peaslee, the rich toy maker, on the night of May 22. It has even been hinted that the murderer may have been hired to kill Peaslee.

This man has been located within a few hundred feet of the Peaslee den at the time of the murder.

An eye witness to the murder may yet be produced, the authorities hope. The man now under suspicion has been found to have had a motive as well as opportunity. Further it is known he was in the presence of a woman at the time it is said the crime was committed, just before 9 o'clock.

This woman, those working on the case now hope to secure as an eye witness, or as one who knew of his plans or intention to commit the crime. The man, on the day after the murder, was informed of the arrest of Eugene A. Wood, charged with the crime and failed. Friends took him home.

From that time he has not spoken to intimate friends or members of the Peaslee family, and his actions have attracted attention. This man has previously been questioned by the selectmen, but nothing could be learned from him beyond an admission that he was near the scene of the murder.

The authorities want to know why he came and went to know also what he did in the few minutes before the murder.

NEW LAW ON EGGS

TO TAKE EFFECT ON JUNE 20—

SIGNS ON COLD STORAGE EGGS

The following law recently passed by the legislature will go into effect on June 20 and is of especial interest to local storekeepers, wholesale dealers, etc. After the above date the eggs must be at least one inch in height.

Chapter 545: An act relative to the sale of eggs taken from cold storage. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1 of chapter 533 of the acts of the year 1913 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "at," in the second line, the words: "Wholesale or, by striking out the words 'at retail,' in the 12th line, and by inserting after the word 'act,' in the 16th line, the words: 'Shall be in letters not less than one inch in height, and so as to read as follows: Section 1. Whenever eggs that have been in cold storage are sold at wholesale or retail, or offered or exposed for sale, the basket, box or other container in which the eggs are placed shall be marked plainly and conspicuously with the words 'cold storage eggs,' or there shall be attached to such container a placard or sign having on it the said words. If eggs that have been in cold storage are sold at retail or offered or exposed for sale without a container, or placed upon a counter or elsewhere, a sign or placard, having the words 'cold storage eggs' plainly and conspicuously marked upon it, shall be displayed in, upon or immediately above the said eggs; the intent of this act being that cold storage eggs sold or offered or exposed for sale shall be designated in such manner that the purchaser will know that they are cold storage eggs. The display of the words 'cold storage eggs,' as required by this act, shall be in letters not less than one inch in height and shall be done in such a manner as is approved by the state board of health. (Approved May 20, 1914.)

1024 PERISH IN WRECK

Official List of Empress Dead—
452 Were Saved—Military Funeral Put Off Till Tomorrow

QUEBEC, Que., June 3.—Four hundred and fifty-two souls only out of 1476 were saved from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, according to the official figures given out late last night by the officials of the Canadian Pacific railroad in this city. This makes a total of 1024 lost.

The road's statement with official figures showed the following: Total on board, crew and passengers, 1476. Total saved, 452. The rescued first class 26, second class 47, third class 156, officers and crew 233.

The missing—First class 58, second class 208, third class 552, officers and crew 180. Identified dead—First class 22, second class 34, officers and crew 12. Judge William Alexander, consul in Quebec, last night gave out the following statement which explains the fate of all Americans who sailed on the Empress of Ireland.

Lost—Mrs. Bessie Bowder, Miss Florence Bowder, Hillsboro, Ind.; Mrs. Eva Searle, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. F. H. Dunleavy, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Richards, Terra Haute, Ind.; Mrs. John Fisher, Chicago; Mrs. M. W. McManis, Chicago; DuPont Bach, Minneapolis; H. L. Heath, Chicago; J. R. Heath, Chicago; Alexander Burnthorne, Santa Barbara, Cal.; George E. Johnston, Antler, Md.; Miss Mary W. Gray, Terra Haute, Ind.

Saved—Charles P. Clark, Detroit; Harry and Mrs. Freeman, Milwaukee; Edith Bach, Minneapolis; Herman and Frieda Kraus, Sherbourne, Minn.

The military funeral arranged by the government of the Dominion and Great Britain for the victims has been postponed until Thursday. The Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada, could not reach here before then and after telegraphic conference the committee in charge in Quebec decided to defer the services.

present king has acted with tact, discretion and rare diplomacy. He has also inherited the democratic tendencies of his popular father, and is undoubtedly beloved by the people of England.

In a few short weeks he will sign the home rule bill for Ireland and by so doing will be reverentially remembered in that country. Englishmen have excellent reason to be proud of King George and today a large portion of the civilized world will join them in singing "God Save the King."

42,000 FARM HANDS

GREAT DEMAND FOR HARVEST EMPLOYEES BY KANSAS FARMERS, ACCORDING TO STATE BUREAU

BOSTON, June 3.—The farmers in Kansas need 42,000 harvest hands and are willing to pay $2 or more a day for a period of three months for competent workmen, according to an announcement made yesterday by the state free employment bureau, on Kincaid street, this city.

The bureau's May statement says that there has been a decrease of about 20 per cent in the demand for help as compared with May of last year. The average demand for help during the last month was $7, as compared with 1913. The average daily number of positions filled was 67 as compared with 80 in 1913.

B. & M. HEARINGS

On Bills Authorizing
New Haven and Holding Co.'s to Sell Stock

BOSTON, June 3.—An opportunity for the presentation of views on the railroad situation in this state was given today when a public hearing was arranged by the legislative committee on railroads on two bills introduced by Senator Milton of Framingham. The bills were offered after the reading of the message of Gov. Walsh recommending the passage of legislation to permit the separation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Maine railroads.

One of them is a so-called enabling act which would authorize the New Haven company to dispose of its stock in the Boston Holding company and permit the holding company, which owns a majority of the Boston & Maine stock to dispose of these shares.

The other bill would authorize the New Haven to dispose of its stock in the Berkshire Street Railway Co. and would relieve the New Haven from obligation to build certain trolley lines in the western part of the state.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

THE LOCAL SOCIETY OF EAGLES IS MAKING

preparations to enter the New England field day to be held at New Haven, Conn., on July 5. The local degree team is striving hard to take the title of champion degree team of New England from the Worcester degree team, which now has that distinction.

There will be an out-door meeting at Spaulding park prior to the degree team's departure for New Haven. Refreshments will be served and an entertainment provided for the members. Past President and State Deputy P. J. McManis, Past President E. H. McManis and Past President Thomas H. McManis were elected as delegates to the Massachusetts state degree convention to be held at Greenfield June 8 and 9.

The building committee made an incomplete report on the different sites under consideration for purchase, with the idea of building a home. Within the next year the Order of Eagles will erect a home in the central portion of the city, that will be second to none among fraternal homes in New England. After the meeting an entertainment was held, with the following members taking part: Vice-President W. H. Quibban gave several whistling solos; Brother Crowe sang and Brother R. J. Flynn read.

FORMER CUSTOMS INSPECTOR SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY TO SMUGGLE

BOSTON, June 3.—Terrance L. Shevlin, formerly a customs inspector in the employ of the government, was sentenced to the jail at Greenfield for a year and a day by Judge Morton in the United States district court yesterday on an indictment for conspiracy to smuggle dress goods into this country.

Three other cases against him were not pros'd. His wife, Annie, Shevlin, was let go in all four cases before the court yesterday. The indictment on which her husband was sentenced also named her and Kate A. Brennan, a New York dressmaker, as defendants. As to both of them it was placed on file.

BRYAN DEFEATED RYAN

Many of those who in the past have given Mr. William Jennings Bryan their confidence and their loyal support have been greatly surprised to find that in spite of all the Mexican complications, he has not only won the nomination to oppose the candidacy of Hon. Richard A. Bland of Philadelphia for governor of Pennsylvania. At the present time there seems to be some difference of opinion in regard to the interpretation of the charter and particularly of those clauses relative to the purchase of supplies for the city of the administration at Washington.

At the present time there seems to be some difference of opinion in regard to the interpretation of the charter and particularly of those clauses relative to the purchase of supplies for the city of the administration at Washington.

It is not as if for democratic leaders to take part in primary election contests when the party is in the very hands of a few very extreme persons. There was no such case in the Pennsylvania case, as Mr. McCormick was a politician in the administration at Washington. It may have been more or less indistinguishable from the rest of the party.

And some by remnants are hurled
To die upon the opposing swords
And sleep, forgotten by the world.

And not where navies churn the foam.
Nor called to fields of fierce surprise.
In many a country cottage home
The embers-buried lives and dies:
Or through the roaring street he goes.

A poor and weary City slave,
The conqueror of a thousand foes,
Who walks, unheeded, to his grave.
Leaders unknown of hopes forlorn
Go past us in the daily mart,
With many a shadowy crown of thorn
And many a kingly broken heart:
Though England's banner overhead
Flies the secret signal dew.
We only see the cross is red
As children see the skies are blue.

For all are empire-builders here
Whose hearts are true to heaven and home.
And, year by slow revolving year,
Find the duties as they come:
So simple seems the task, and yet
Many for this are crucified:
Aye, and their brother men forger
The simple wounds in palm and side.

For hearts that to their home are true,
Wherever the tides of power may flow,
Have built a kingdom great and new
Which Time nor Fate shall overthrow:
These are the empire-builders, these Anxiously where none shall say "them
Beyond the world's uncharted seas,
Realms that can never pass away."
—Alfred Noyes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

STILL THEY COME

We have received the "Souvenir edition" of the Lowell Sun (Lowell, Mass.) the occasion of its issue being the installation of the newspaper in its new home, with its lightning sextuple press built for the Sun by R. Hoe & Co. of New York and London, with a description of the building, the press, and everything connected therewith.

While the press is the great big unit in a newspaper plant there are many other machines of wonderful construction necessary in the production of the modern newspaper. There is the linotype machine, which is unquestionably one of the great inventions of the century. The linotypes in all the large offices of the country are entirely different from those with which they started 20 or 25 years ago, when they went from hand composition to machine composition. And so with the printing press, the linotype, the galley, the galleys, and all the other improvements that go to make up the modern daily newspaper. It would be wearisome to undertake to mention, let alone to describe them, for the general reader, for the inmates and employees of the different offices, themselves do not understand their uses and operation aside from the experts in the different departments. Besides, it would be useless, for after all the various and wonderful improvements and means, there is the mind to be considered that evolved them all, and without which they could not have been, and which controls them all—each of the many busy units necessary in a modern printing establishment, and especially in the production of a daily newspaper from the largest metropolitan daily to the humblest in the land—Oregon Statesman, Salem, Ore.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE

The Lowell (Mass.) Sun, one of the best-enterprising newspapers in the eastern part of the state, celebrated its 50th anniversary by moving into a handsome two-story building. The Sun was started as a weekly 25 years ago and in 1892 was changed to a daily and its record since then has been one of increasing prosperity. In observing the anniversary the Sun issued a nicely illustrated souvenir edition. The Sun is owned by John H. Harrington, one of Lowell's prominent citizens. Publishers' Auxiliary.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Have you seen the wonderful array of colored wigs that are being worn this week by the women members of the Merrimack Square Theatre? If you have not then be sure and avail yourself of the opportunity. It is the first time they have been used on a local stage and they prove quite a novelty. They should prove interesting to the women folk.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"The Squaw Man" in 24 scenes, and played by 12 actors is the splendid picture feature at the Keith theatre, today. Dustin Farnum, recognized as one of the very best of our stage leading men, is in the role of "Jim Carson," the young hero, and the scene of "Carson" by "Nat-U-Ritch" from "Death Hole." Another stirring scene is the death of the Earl of Kerri, who falls over a cliff in the scene. Such attention to detail as is shown in this picture-drama is wonderful indeed. The supporting company of Mr. Farnum is first class in every particular, and patrons who have seen the six reels of pictures are highly delighted with them. Beginning tomorrow "Reverend" Millions, with Edward Ables in the leading role, will be shown at the theatre. The seats are 10 and 15 cents, with children admitted for five cents.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Path of Sorrow" is the title of the three-part Warner feature to be shown today and tomorrow at the Owl. It tells a big, tragic story in a clear and convincing manner, and by a fine company and photographed with all the skill known to these Warner photographers. Many other good pictures forming the regular show, are sure to please, a two-reel feature entitled "The Ambassador's Envoy," being of genuine interest. "The Convict's Story" is an instructive picture, while the comedy extravaganza of the bill will be sustained by "Pickles Mary Jane" and "Shookum's Birthday" as up-to-date comedies, with plenty of fun and a good laugh. The picture-screen, the slides and the direct current form an attractive combination for lovers of fun, flickerless photo-play. Jack Clinton will continue to please patrons with his singing of popular ballads.

SACRIFICE OF HELPLESS LITTLE CHILDREN SADDEST PART OF ST. LAWRENCE HORROR

SAILORS CARRYING COFFINS OF EMPRESS' VICTIMS FROM LADY GREY OF QUEBEC.

One of the saddest features of the awful St. Lawrence river disaster, in which the Empress of Ireland was rammed by the collier Storstad and sunk with 1000 souls, was the loss of the little children. This picture gives mute evidence of the sacrifice of the helpless tots. It shows sailors carrying the coffins of some of the child victims from the Lady Grey to the dock at Quebec. The caskets are so small that the sailors can carry them under their arms. Some of these little children died in their mothers' arms in the cold river of death when the frantic women sprang from the sinking ship.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Harrison Richards, formerly employed at the F. S. Bunting Co., has accepted employment with the Stirling Manufacturing Co.

John Hannon, formerly employed by the Lohrery Mattress Co., has accepted a position with the Northern Waste Co. at Waterville.

Mr. Edward Faye, employed at the Merrimack mills, will spend the first two weeks of July in the Maine woods. A party of friends will accompany him.

Joseph Bradbury, employed at the Rock mills, starts for Old Orchard next week. He intends to rest up for three weeks at this popular resort.

John Sawyer, formerly employed at the Blanchery, has accepted the call of the farm. At present he is busily engaged in tilling the soil on his uncle's farm in South Berwick.

Mr. Michael Sherry, an old and trusted employee of the Henge Electric Co., will visit the scenes of his childhood in Ireland, once more. He will sail sometime during the month of July.

"Comin' Funnin' on, who was formerly employed by Ed Fairburn in the meat business, has been promoted to the position of second hand at the Bay State mills.

James Sullivan, a popular young employee at the Bigelow Carpet Co., will be heard in song at a local concert in a few weeks. Mr. Sullivan is the possessor of a fine tenor voice.

Henry Newell, manager of the American Hike & Leather Co., local team is being hoisted with challenges. He has appointed "Jack" Quintan, who is a first string pitcher, captain.

Bill Connor, Frank O'Keefe, Edward Hurley and Jake Rogers, employed at the Lowell Felt Co., moved into their beautiful camp at Long Pond yesterday.

Harry Plimington, employed by a Boston concern, is seen burning up the roads on his new Indian motorcycle. Mr. Plimington was formerly a clerk in the Saw-Loxell office.

Alexander Anderson, construction foreman at the Lowell Electric Light works and the man who made the Fort Hill bridge possible, has purchased a new Buick roadster.

The many friends of Mr. Leo O'Neil, who is employed at the Boston & Maine repair shops will be pained to learn that he is confined in the Massachusetts General hospital where it is feared he will lose an eye.

John Harrington, who is an employee at the U. S. Bunting Co., was the victim of a painful accident yesterday morning. He was struck in the nose by a flying hobbin which inflicted a deep cut. He was attended at the mill.

Sport followers will have a chance to see what promises to be some race next Saturday afternoon when Herbert Bennett, an aspirant in the recent Bunting marathon and Ted Buckley, an employee at the American Hike and Leather Co., set their legs going in the direction of Tewksbury Centre, which will be their destination. They will start at the foot of Rogers street.

NOT A CHANCE

Bull Moose Turn Down Proposition to Amalgamate With G. O. P.

BOSTON, June 3.—Close to 600 members of the progressive party of Massachusetts arose as one man in Mechanic's hall last night to voice their indignant protest against amalgamation with the republican party under any terms whatsoever.

This demonstration came at the wind up of the big meeting called for the purpose of inaugurating an eight-day campaign to raise a campaign fund of $50,000.

Chairman Hale had asked for an expression of opinion on the matter of amalgamating with the republican party. The response was almost violent in its earnestness. Men who had no chairs crouched down on their knees or sat on the floor when he called for a showing of those who favored amalgamation to indicate it by standing up.

The meeting developed several facts of considerable political importance.

1. The authoritative statement from George W. Perkins, who was the honored guest, that Col. Roosevelt had not the slightest intention of endorsing any proposal for amalgamation either in the nation or in the New York gubernatorial contest.

2. The statement made by both Chairman Hale of the progressive state committee and Charles Sumner Bird that the party in this state would not compromise an inch in the fight against the republican party.

3.—It was demonstrated beyond question or doubt that Charles Sumner Bird would be the progressive candidate for governor this fall.

4.—Mr. Perkins said that President Wilson did not know what he was talking about when he said that business was only bad from a psychological standpoint, but that business was bad and that the republican party was to blame for it.

5.—Chairman Hale said that an amalgamated ticket made up of Bird for governor and McCall for lieutenant-governor "would be linked to a standstill by the democrats this fall."

CARMACK AMENDMENT

SEN. CUMMINS URGES CHANGE TO HOLD R. R. LIABLE FOR LOSS TO SHIPMENTS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Senator Cummins' proposal that the Carmack amendment to the interstate commerce committee law be rewritten so to hold railroads liable generally for loss to shipments during transit was before the senate today. In explanation of his bill, Senator Cummins told the senate that the supreme court had held recently that the Carmack amendment making initial railroad carriers liable for loss of shipments had annulled all state laws on liability for damage to interstate shipments. As a result the railroads had proceeded to limit the liability to the value stated in the bill of lading. He asked for the passage of the law requiring railroads to pay the actual loss suffered by shipments except where the shipments were wrapped or the interstate-commerce committee had granted permission for the making of rates on value.

All members and their friends are invited.

Carpenters' Union, Local 49

The Carpenters of local 49 held their meeting in Carpenters' hall in the tunnels building last night with an unusually large attendance. Quite a list of business was transacted. Two applications for membership were received and they were laid over for one week. Several of the members spoke on the good of the union and their remarks were of much interest. The secretary's report showed the union to be in a flourishing financial condition.

ANTI-TRUST CAMPAIGN

RAYBURN BILL TO PLACE H. R. SECURITIES UNDER CONTROL OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE BOARD

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Rayburn bill to place the issue of railroad securities under the control of the interstate commerce commission was before the house today. This is the third and last message in the administration's anti-trust campaign.

Consideration of the Clayton anti-trust bill, the second measure on the program, was completed in the committee of the whole late yesterday and laid aside to await a final vote. With ten hours of general debate on the Rayburn bill ahead, house leaders were prepared today to push the measure to completion by the end of the week.

TOO MUCH TANGO CAUSES NEURALGIA

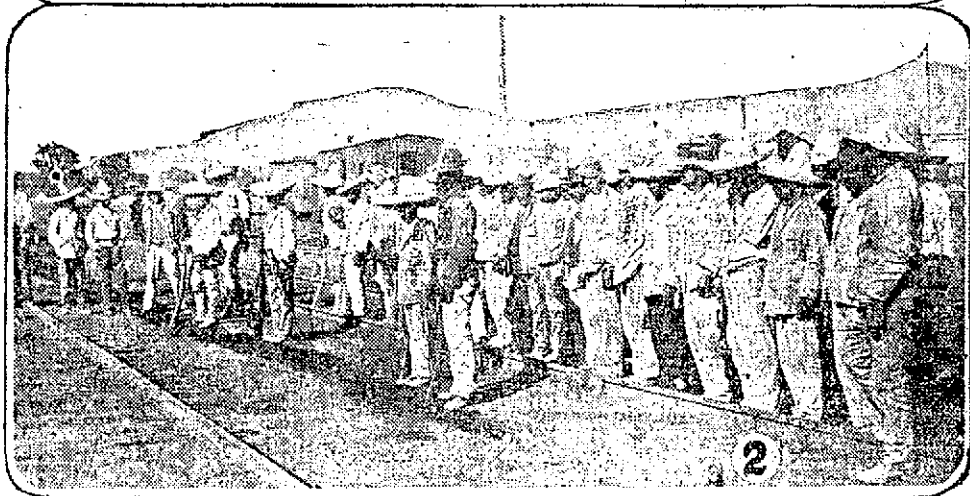

Violent neuralgia of the head generally attacks overworked women who lack sufficient sleep, fresh air and red blood.

With the prevalent craze for dancing at all times and places it is becoming noticeable that women whose blood is thin—anaemic—become subject to neuralgic pains when they dance too much and rob themselves of sleep and open-air exercise.

The woman who makes great demands on her strength, either by overworking or overdancing, must keep her blood in condition or suffer. The pain of neuralgia is simply a sign adopted by nature to show that the nervous system is being starved because the blood no longer brings it what it needs. The great cause of neuralgia is debility with anaemia or bloodlessness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and nerves. They begin at once to enrich the blood and enable it to furnish the nerves with the elements they need to restore them to health. A booklet on the home treatment of nervous disorders that will enable you to help yourself will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 200 N. 1st St., New York, N. Y. CAR CRASHES INTO TREE

FOUR INJURED WHEN CAR JUMPED TRACKS AT NATICK—THINK BOYS PUT STONES ON TRACKS

NATICK, June 3.—Three women and a man were seriously injured and a dozen others were shaken up and bruised when an electric car jumped the track and ran into a tree on North Main street, yesterday afternoon. It is believed that boys put stones on the tracks, causing the car to become derailed.

Miss Emily Curtis, Miss Mary Casey and Mrs. Roy Fiske and John Woodward, motorman, are at the Morse hospital. It is believed that both of Mrs. Fiske's legs are broken. The car was on its way from Wayland and was due at Natick at 3:15. As it was coming around the curve in North Main street it ran off the track and struck the tree. All the passengers were thrown from their seats, witnesses said.

The motorman, John Woodward narrowly escaped instant death. Although he was badly bruised and shaken up he is not in a dangerous condition at the hospital. The car was partially demolished.

It was reported to the police that stones on the track caused the derailment and officers were assigned to the case to see if this is true.

WATERBURY MAN KILLED

WOMAN, CARRYING 5-DAY-OLD INFANT, ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF HAVING SHOT HIM

WATERBURY, Conn., June 3.—Mrs. Rose Perito, carrying her five-day-old baby in her arms, was arrested last night on suspicion of murdering Pasquale Trotta in her house late yesterday. Trotta was shot twice and staggered out of the house into the yard, where he fell dead. The police have arrested two other women as material witnesses and are searching for Tony Martin, a boarder, who is said to have run away from the scene of the shooting. Two young men are also held as witnesses.

GRAND JURY SESSION
ON CRIMINAL CASES

The grand jury convened at the court house in Gorham street this morning for the consideration of criminal cases in this district. The principal case brought for their consideration at this session was that of Thomas F. Donnelly, charged with forgery in connection with initiative proceedings on the contagious hospital site.

The witnesses summoned to the court house today to testify in this case were: Sergt. Petrie, City Clerk Flynn, Walter Guyette, James McFarlane, Michael Carroll, Patrick Connolly and J. H. Boardman, an expert in handwriting.

Civil Court
In the civil session of the superior court yesterday afternoon the case of Henry J. O'Dowd vs. the Bay State Street Railway company was taken from the jury and a verdict ordered for the defendant. Mr. O'Dowd sued for damages to his automobile which he claimed was injured in a collision with one of the company cars. The company denied responsibility for the accident.

There was no case ready at the opening of the civil session this morning and accordingly the court broke down for the forenoon. Justice Fox excused the jurors until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Jury Waived Session
In the jury waived session, Justice Sanderson presiding, the case of Satorio Anastasio vs. Alex. Kogias and James Stornaras, an action for the recovery of an alleged loan of $151.75, which the plaintiff alleges he made for the recovery of an alleged loan of $151.75, which the plaintiff alleges he made to the defendants, claiming both were co-partners in a business in Market street. One of the defendants, Stornaras is now in the old country, and the other defendant refused to pay the money on the grounds that the said money was loaned to Stornaras and he also denied that any partnership existed between the two. D. J. Murphy appeared for the defendant and Lawyer Stone of Boston for the plaintiff. After hearing the evidence, Justice Sanderson reserved his decision to a later date.

FINAL ARGUMENT IN FEDERAL SUIT BEGUN IN U. S. COURT TODAY
WASHINGTON, Conn., June 3.—Final argument in the federal suit to break up what the government claims is the largest of a number of combinations forming the alleged anthracite coal trust was begun in the United States court today. The defendants are the Reading company, a holding concern, Reading railway, Reading Coal & Iron Co., Jersey Central railroad, Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Co., Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co., Wilkesbarre & Northampton railroad, Lehigh & Hudson River railroad, Lehigh & New England railroad and the directors of the Reading company who are also directors for a number of other companies. The suit was filed in September, 1912, under the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the act to regulate commerce.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB
The Educational club met in its rooms in the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Black presided. The reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were read and approved. Mrs. Kendall, chairman of the program committee, announced her committee as follows: Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Rule and Mrs. Farrow. After the regular business session the following musical program was enjoyed: Piano solos, Miss Minnie Tucker, Miss Maria Smith; songs, Miss Bernice Staples, accompanied by Miss Tucker; Miss Maria McPherson, accompanied Miss Maria McPherson; readings, Miss Daisy MacBrayne and Miss Maria McPherson. Tea was served by the hospitality committee. Mrs. Fletcher extended a cordial invitation to every member of the club to attend a basket picnic to be held at her home in Chelmsford, the last Tuesday in June. Next Tuesday the club goes to Salem on the S. L. car from the square. All members are requested to be on hand.

MORGAN AND MELLEN
THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

J.S. Elton, Director of New Haven Road, so Testifies at Inter-state Commerce Commission Inquiry—Was Told New Haven's Charter Allowed it to do Almost Anything

WASHINGTON, June 3.—James S. Elton, a director of the New Haven railroad, testified before the inter-state commerce commission today in its inquiry into the system's financial operations that the acquisition of the Westchester and the several trolley properties was in consonance with a broad policy which had for its end the improvement of terminal facilities in New York city and a comprehensive increase of the transportation facilities of the system. These points were developed on questions by William Nelson Cromwell representing several of the directors.

Mr. Elton had testified under questioning by Chief Counsel Folk that he did not approve personally of what he termed extravagances in the purchase by the New Haven of some of its subsidiaries. He said the board largely depended upon the judgment of the executive committee composed of the late J. P. Morgan, William Rockefeller and Director Brush.

HEARING RESUMED
WASHINGTON, June 3.—J. S. Elton, a director of the New Haven road, was the first witness called today when inquiry into that system's financial affairs was resumed before the inter-state commerce commission. Chief Counsel Joseph W. Folk before beginning the examination of the witness presented several telegrams sent to newspapers and other publications. Among them, he said, were many payments manifestly for legitimate advertising. Most of the payments referred to were already of record. In all, he added, several hundred publications were paid among them he named two Boston papers. Efforts to secure the attendance of J. W. Atwater of Boston and a man named Boyle, who had sent some of the telegrams he said had been unproductive.

William Skinner, another director, and Laurence Minot, a member of the board during a part of the time Charles S. Mellen was president, also were ready to testify. Mr. Elton said he was present at the meeting at which Messrs. Morgan, Rockefeller and Miller were appointed a committee in the New York, Westchester & Boston transaction and also when they reported. "What was your opinion of their advocating spending over $11,000,000 for the road?" asked Mr. Folk. "I would not say that I felt it was unnecessary, but that it was extravagant," he replied. "Were you surprised?" "I think I was but I had absolute confidence in Messrs. Morgan, Rockefeller and Miller."

"Who was the dominating feature at the board meetings?" "I think Mr. Mellen was."

"Did not the board usually acquiesce in the recommendations made by J. Pierpont Morgan?" "Yes."

Mr. Elton declared that he remembered to instance where the wishes of Mr. Morgan were opposed.

Wishes of Morgan Respected
"After Morgan left the meetings were any objections made by directors against some of his wishes?" "Oh, amongst themselves, they would probably object."

"Did Mr. Morgan make any statement of value of securities acquired for the $11,000,000?" "Not that I remember."

Mr. Elton said he did not recall anything about the 800 shares of stock of the New Haven, turned over to Mr. Mellen with which to acquire 24,000 shares of Westchester stock as testified by Mr. Mellen. He said he knew nothing of the transactions with Police Inspector Byrnes except as he had read the testimony of Mr. Mellen.

The witness said he had expressed disapproval of the expenditure of $20,000 for taking over the Rhode Island trolleys but had not voted against it. "Why did you not stick to your disapproval?" "I don't know why I did not stick to it."

"Did Mr. Mellen propose the acquisition of the trolleys?" "I think he did."

WASHINGTON, June 3.—James S. Elton, a director of the New Haven railroad, testified before the inter-state commerce commission today in its inquiry into the system's financial operations that the acquisition of the Westchester and the several trolley properties was in consonance with a broad policy which had for its end the improvement of terminal facilities in New York city and a comprehensive increase of the transportation facilities of the system. These points were developed on questions by William Nelson Cromwell representing several of the directors.

Mr. Elton had testified under questioning by Chief Counsel Folk that he did not approve personally of what he termed extravagances in the purchase by the New Haven of some of its subsidiaries. He said the board largely depended upon the judgment of the executive committee composed of the late J. P. Morgan, William Rockefeller and Director Brush.

Was Always Confused
"Were you confused at times and unable to tell which board meeting you were attending?" asked Mr. Folk. "I was always confused. I am hard of hearing and they went so fast I could not keep up."

Did any of the directors at the meetings ever ask if any of the transactions connected with the acquisition or consolidation of trolley concerns were in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law?

"Yes, I did sometimes," he replied. "What answer did you get?" "I was told that the New Haven's charter from the state of Connecticut allowed it to do almost anything."

Mr. Elton said he did not know the subsidiaries of the New Haven numbered 328 and added that when he sought information as to the operations of those companies and other matters in connection with them he did not meet with much success.

Never Understood Billard Co.
Questioned regarding the John L. Billard Co.'s transactions, Mr. Elton said:

"I never understood the Billard company matters."

Asked as to the transactions involving 109,000 shares of Boston & Maine stock in which there was a profit of $2,758,000, Mr. Elton testified it was his understanding at the time that the profit belonged to the New Haven road and not to Billard.

Mr. Folk read the minutes of a meeting of the directors on Oct. 5, 1909, which showed the New Haven was to get the profit from the deal except a reasonable compensation to Mr. Billard for his services. Mr. Elton said he thought the minutes were correct and that they expressed his understanding of what took place.

"What was your understanding as to what Mr. Billard was to get, and of the transaction?" asked Mr. Folk. "Only that he was to have a reasonable profit."

"Was there any discussion of the amount of the profit by the board?" "That was left to the executive committee."

Massachusetts Trolleys
"What do you know about the purchase of the Massachusetts trolleys?" "They were bought before I became a director of the board."

"But after you went on the board the question of the legality of owning the trolleys came up, didn't it?" "Yes."

"Wasn't the New England Investment & Security Co. formed then to hold these lines?" "There were so many of these companies I could not keep up with them."

Mr. Elton added he had bought $10,000 worth of stock of the investment company at the request of Mr. Mellen and that later he had turned the shares over to Mr. Mellen for the latter's personal character.

Mr. Elton said that up to two years ago there had been no question of the earnings of the road being sufficient but two years ago it was found not enough had been earned to meet the dividend.

"What do you know of campaign contributions made by Mr. Mellen?" "I remember that at one meeting the opinion was expressed that there was to be no more of that sort of thing."

"Was the New Haven not operated as an adjunct to Wall street, as a speculative enterprise?" "No, I believe Mr. Morgan's heart and soul was in the New Haven and I do not think Wall street had anything to do with it."

"What is the difference between the present conduct of affairs as compared with the former methods?" "Well, the directors have learned a great deal. They are not taking one man's word. They have a better posted and very different man. Mr. Mellen's ambition ran away with him."

MEMBERS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OFF ON TOUR

All members of the municipal council, with the exception of the mayor, went to Springfield today and they do tell that it's a case of more automobiles. In the olden days a trip like this would have been referred to as a junker.

If this year's government has made any improvement over the government which it succeeded, it is not in the purchase of automobiles. Commissioner Brown claims that the requisitions for automobiles and the purchase of them have been irregular, but Mr. Brown is one of the party today.

Mayor Murphy was not at his office this forenoon, but his private secretary, Mr. John Gull, said that the mayor

MILITANTS K. O. EDITORS

BELFAST, Ireland, June 3.—Suffragettes today committed serious assaults on the managing editors of two of the leading newspapers of Belfast which had expressed criticism of the militant campaign.

Two well dressed women, one of them very tall, went to the Belfast Telegraph office and were ushered in to the editorial room. Without speaking a word, the larger woman walked straight up to Mr. Stewart, the managing editor, and with a swing from her fist knocked him out of his chair onto the floor. At the same time her companion swung her right and hurled a mulligan bottle at his head.

The women then proceeded to the News-Letter office and made a similar attack on Mr. Anderson, managing editor of that newspaper. He will be confined to his bed for some time.

millis, dyes, etc. that the state commission blames for the disappearance of the salmon.

Mr. Dearborn has a fine collection of data having to do with fish in these quarters since the sixteenth century and he surprised the association members last night when he told them that salmon were so plentiful in Beaver brook in the olden days that the farmers spread them on their land for fertilizer, much the same as smelts, tommy cods, mackerels and other fish are used in certain sections of the maritime provinces at the present time. He also produced an old law having to do with salmon in Hale's brook. This law allowed the people living along Hale's brook to catch a certain number of salmon for their own use and any in excess of the number specified were given to the poorer people of the settlement. Mr. Dearborn carried his listeners a little further and read an old law providing that the Merrimac valley were not allowed to give their boarders salmon more than three times a week. Mr. Dearborn proved a very interesting talker.

Senator Draper and Rep. Victor F. Jewett are members of the association and were present at last night's meeting. They agreed that they would take the matter of the restoration of the fishways at Lowell and Lawrence to the attorney-general and ask him for his opinion in the matter.

SUES SHERIFF FAIRBURN
CAMBRIDGE, June 3.—Suits were filed against the Lockmere National bank of this city and John R. Fairburn, sheriff of Middlesex county by District Attorney W. J. Corcoran, acting for the county today.

The suits resulted from alleged defalcations in 1913 by a house of correction employee who died before proceedings were instituted against Sheriff Fairburn. It is alleged it was his duty to receive certain sums of money and turn the same over to the county treasurer and that he failed to perform his duty.

The bank, it is alleged, paid between Jan. 1, 1912, and March 31, 1913, to unknown persons, money belonging to the county.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Members of Board of Trade Hear Interesting Reports — Election of Officers

The annual meeting of the members of the Lowell board of trade was held last night at the board's rooms in Central street and the affair proved very interesting. There were over 100 members present and considerable business was transacted. The secretary, John H. Murphy, submitted a lengthy report on the doings of the organization during the past year and the document was very interesting and it was evident by the work accomplished that the officers of the board were wide awake during the entire year. Committee reports were also read and the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mr. Robert F. Marden, who is now in London, being elected president.

In the absence of the president, Geo. M. Harrigan, the meeting was called

HOW DID YOU REST

LAST NIGHT?

Many cases of sleeplessness are due to a slight disturbance of the stomach from something that has been eaten, or to a little indigestion. Dys-pep-tics correct sour stomach, promote digestion, and promptly relieve many cases of sleeplessness. They cost only a quarter at your druggist's. They are absolutely free from all narcotics, and should be kept at every bedside as a convenient, agreeable and harmless remedy. Sold by all druggists, 19c., 25c., $1.

to order by Patrick O'Hearn, third vice president. The presiding officer took occasion to bring to the attention of the meeting a few facts concerning the work of the board during the past 12 months, and he paid a flattering compliment to President Harrigan and Secretary Murphy for their untiring efforts in bringing the organization to such a high standard.

Secretary Murphy's Report

Secretary John H. Murphy read his annual report, and although it was a lengthy document, it was heard with much interest. The report was in part as follows:

The office of the board is really the general information bureau of the city. The service rendered the public varies widely and requires considerable time. The inquiries concerning information of business houses and commercial opportunities are answered, and many prospective customers, from all over the world, were referred to Lowell manufacturers and jobbers.

The details of the office work requiring the attention of the secretary can be summarized as follows: 1234 people called at the office on various matters, 1509 telephone calls were answered and 3582 pieces of mail were received and 10,172 letters were sent from the office.

Meetings

During this year the board has held eight meetings of the entire membership and the directors have held 10 meetings, while the executive committee has been in session weekly. There board was held on Nov. 11th, 1913, at which time Mr. Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association was the speaker of the evening. The meeting was well attended and the address of Mr. Wentworth very interesting.

New Year's Meeting

The largest meeting in the history of the organization was held at the Lowell armory on January 21st, 1914, the occasion being the New Year's meeting of the board. It is estimated that more than 500 members were present and enjoyed the program of the evening.

Preceding the dinner the members inspected a collection of Philip Philip-poteau paintings. The guests and speakers of the evening were William J. Burns, president of the International Detective association, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, mayor of Lowell, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association and Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson. The meeting was voted a complete success by those present and the affair stands as one of the most successful events conducted by the organization.

Income Tax Meeting

The very intricate and confusing sections of the new income tax laws were the subject of discussion led by Mr. Olaf Olson, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Boston on February 20th, 1914. The meeting was well attended and proved interesting and instructive.

Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade was held in Associate hall, March 5, 1914, and attended by more than 300 members.

The speaker of the evening was United States Senator John W. Weeks, who discussed national legislation concerning currency. Hon. Dennis J. Murphy also responded to a toast "The City of Lowell."

Membership

There are 511 members who have paid their 1914 assessment, 132 members who have paid their 1913 assessment who will remit 1914 assessment before the close of the year and there are 81 members who paid 1912, who hope will pay during 1914. This brings

THE "NEW PERFECTION" LAUNDRESS

Though she works next to the stove, within easy reach of her irons, she keeps cool and comfortable. That's because she uses a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The New Perfection No. 5 Stove, with the Fireless Cooking Oven, is the latest addition to the famous New Perfection line of cook-stoves. Pull the damper of this fireless oven and it becomes a perfect fireless cooker. It uses only one burner—saves half the fuel cost. You can start the supper right after lunch, and let it cook itself, while you spend the afternoon outdoors.

New Perfection Stoves bake, broil, roast, toast—everything any other stove will do, and they cost less for fuel. No handling of coal and ashes—all the cooking heat you want, just when you want it.

New Perfection Stoves are made in 1, 2, 3, and 4-burner sizes. No. 5 stove is sold complete with broiler, toaster, and fireless oven. Regular oven, broiler and toaster can be obtained separately for smaller sizes. Sad-iron heater and cook-book free with every stove.

JOHN H. MURPHY,
Secretary

have been 35 committee meetings held during the year.

The board had the honor during the year of having as guests, John W. Weeks, U. S. senator, John Jacob Rogers, congressman, William J. Burns, president of the International Detective agency, Alfred W. Cutting, representing Shelton efficiency system, Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association, Olaf Olson, assistant cashier First National bank, Gardner W. Pearson, Adjutant General of Massachusetts, Charles W. Burrows, president of the One Cent Letter Postage association, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the Boston & Maine railroad, Hon. James E. O'Donnell and Hon. D. J. Murphy.

Annual Outing

The usual summer outing of the board was conducted in the form of an inspection day at the new Billerica car shops.

A special train conveyed about 400 members of the boards of trade of Greater Lowell to the shops where a dinner was served and a tour of inspection of the mammoth plant enjoyed by the members.

The guests on this occasion were the following: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Franklin K. Irwin, chief engineer of the plant, W. H. Seeley, manager of the New England Lines' Industrial bureau, Carl R. Smith, F. C. Sheppard, T. J. Coffin, engineers of the Boston & Maine railroad, and Robert H. Newcomb, publicity agent of the B. & M. R. R.

A very interesting speech concerning the history of the Boston & Maine railroad was delivered by Hon. John Jacob Rogers on this occasion.

Fire Prevention Meeting

In connection with the board's movement, in conducting a fire prevention and clean up week, a meeting of the total membership on our rolls, after revising the list to date, to $25.

New Industries

A very important function of board of trade work is the securing of new industries and the conserving of established industries.

Shelton efficiency system, during the year, Rine Flano company, manufacturers of planes, occupying about 20,000 square feet of floor space, employing 100.

Northern Waste company, manufacturers of cotton wastes, occupying 21,000 square feet of floor space, employing about 75 people.

George E. Double Company, cotton goods manufacturers, occupying 15,000 square feet of floor space, employing 50 people.

Many propositions were investigated by the secretary and special committee, but it was found that capital as well as location was desired by many of these firms.

Billerica B. & M. Railroad Shops

During the year the extensive Billerica railroad shops of the Boston & Maine railroad began operations, and it is safe to say that this new industry is the largest that has located in New England within the past five years. The increase in general business and the influx of well paid mechanics and their families to our city are the first tokens of reward for the very arduous and successful work accomplished by the officers and committee of the board in bringing about the location of these shops within Greater Lowell.

It is an inspiring significance as to the future development of the city to witness the daily arrival of the heavy loaded work train of fourteen cars and to see the hundreds of workmen wending their way to their homes, a guarantee of both increased business and population.

Housing Billerica Employees

The board, upon the recommendation of the executive committee, after consulting with the Boston & Maine officials and the real estate men of the city, decided to compile a list of available tenements and rooms to rent in the city. The real estate dealers furnished a list of all the property available and the Lowell Gas company and the Electric Light company furnished a list of houses where meters had been removed, which was an indication of an idle tenement. This information was tabulated and a copy put on file in accordance with a card index system showing the rent, number of rooms, distances from school and street car line, the name of the owner, restrictions, if any, and the place at which the key could be located for inspection of the same.

Merrimack River Development

The question of the development of the Merrimack river has occupied the attention of the board. The waterway committee has very efficiently attended to the many details concerning the progress of work of the development scheme of the river.

To the Lowell board of trade belongs the credit for the very successful work accomplished in connection with the favorable consideration given the report of the Merrimack valley waterway board by the legislature.

Visits of Committees

Through the courtesy of Congressman John Jacob Rogers the committee on national rivers and harbors of the house of representatives paid a visit to Lowell and inspected the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea.

Visits and tours of inspection were also made by the Merrimack valley waterway board, the harbors and lands commission of Massachusetts, and the legislative committee on rivers and harbors. Statistics tending to show the importance of the development of the river were prepared and presented to each of the commissions on the occasion of their visits to the city.

Middlesex Street Grade Crossing

The resurrected question of the elimination of the Middlesex street grade crossing was again the subject of discussion by committees of the board. The board was represented at hearings held before Justice McLaughlin of the superior court in reference to the appointment of a commission to pass upon the question of the elimination of the crossing. The board was also represented at two hearings held before the appointed commission, and statistics dealing with traffic conditions at the crossing were presented at the hearings.

Fire Prevention

The committee has advocated the holding of clean-up and fire prevention weeks and by means of published proclamations and bulletins of fire prevention methods have successfully created a spirit of helpfulness on the part of the people of the city to keep the yards, homes and streets free from refuse and other causes of fire.

During the week of Nov. 1, 1913, and April 15, 19 and 20, 1914, and during the weeks of May 4 in accordance with the plan of the New England clean-up and paint-up campaign, much good was accomplished by means of co-operative work on the part of the people of the city.

Inspection of Lowell

The committee invited the national board of underwriters to re-inspect the city with a purpose in view of having the benefit of the suggestion of the engineers of the national board. Many of the recommendations made by these engineers in 1908 have already been put in force.

The re-inspection was made during April and the report and recommendations are awaited anxiously by the committee.

If a favorable report is rendered it is quite possible that a movement calling for a reduction in fire insurance rates will be made. The committee will endeavor to have the new recommendations carried out.

In Memoriam

It was the sad experience of the year's record that the following members who were loyal in their co-operation and assistance passed away: Patrick Conlon, Abel Wheeler, Thomas H. Lawler, Jr. Chas. E. Snyder, Patrick Gilbride.

Local Newspapers

A deep sense of appreciation and gratitude is expressed to the newspapers of the city and their representatives who have so cordially co-operated in many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many undertakings of the board and have so generously devoted the columns of their papers to the use of the board.

It is largely through the press that our members and the people of the community have become acquainted with many of the details of the board's work and the successful culmination of many matters depending upon the support of the community has thus been brought about.

The work for transportation, better street car service, Lowell city, exhibition of foreign cottons, the Lowell slogan contest, legislative matters, together with the meetings of the executive committee were dealt with at length.

Conclusion

The Lowell board of trade stands for progress, onward and upward and meets conditions with a fearless resolve to create enthusiasm among the people of the city and to attract strangers by a determination to place Lowell in the forefront of American cities.

The majority of members or people of the city are not aware of the vast amount of work that is being accomplished in an effort to make Lowell the best city in the world. The work is large and necessarily slow and hampered by reason of limited funds, but the spirit is at all times of the highest.

Lowell's advantages are many, opportunities abound, the future of Lowell is never brighter; then all together to share in the development and help the cause by always speaking a good word for the best place on earth, or remain silent.

The auditor's report showed that the organization on June 1, had a balance on hand of $1864.37. The total receipts for the year were $1583.62, while the expenditures amounted to $4214.63. This report was received with applause.

Auditor William F. Hills then reported for the board of auditors and his report was to the effect that the financial conditions of the organization are O. K.

Insurance Committee

The insurance and fire prevention committee through the chairman, Daniel F. Carroll, reported on their work which proved very satisfactory. The report stated that conferences have been held with the chiefs of the police and fire departments in reference to a clean-up campaign, and also with Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association. The closing of the report was to the effect that the committee will continue to study local conditions and be prepared to carry out any recommendations made by the national board of underwriters in their report.

John H. Murphy reported for the city beautiful committee in place of Harvey R. Greene, who was unable to attend, and the report had much to do with the planting of trees in the school yards of the city. The members of this committee in their report also announced that they have declared war on the billboards which adorn the city and that they will resume activities to do away with them altogether.

Officers Elected

The following officers were elected: President, Robert F. Marden; first vice president, Patrick O'Hearn; second vice president, Frank Hanchett; third vice president, Harry Dunlap; treasurer, Edward B. Carney; auditor, William F. Hills; clerk, James C. Reilly. Honorary directors: Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, ex-President Jesse H. Shepard, ex-President Walter S. Watson, ex-President Alonzo G. Walsh, ex-President Henry A. Smith, ex-President Harvey R. Greene, ex-President George M. Harrigan. Elected directors: Hon. Erson B. Barlow, Wm. H. Bolger, Otis W. Butler, Daniel F. Carney, Harold L. Chalifoux, Milo D. Clay, Jesse H. Crook, Herford N. Elliott, Frederic A. Fisher, Walter E. Guette, Irving D. Kimball, Fred O. Lewis, Benj. J. Mahoney, D. A. Mackenzie, Clarence H. Nelson, Thomas J. O'Donnell, Wm. H. Penn, Frank Ricard, Will Randa, Charles Runnels, Arthur W. Saunders, Daniel W. Shanahan, Hon. John T. Sparks, George H. Taylor, Percy J. Wilson, representing Billerica, Rev. C. H. Williams, representing Tewksbury, Dr. H. N. Larabee, representing Chelmsford, William J. Quiley, representing Westford, Edward Fisher.

A vote of thanks was extended the retiring officers and at the close of the meeting Secretary Murphy sent a telegram to the president-elect, Robert F. Marden, who is in London, informing him of his election.

A Summer Trip Through the Northwest and to the Pacific Coast

Everyone should know something of our wonderful country in the great northwest and on the Pacific Coast—Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and California, all can be visited comfortably, and without great expense, by taking advantage of the low price Summer Tour tickets.

Really, there can be nothing more attractive nor more educational than a tour through this country, with possibly a visit to the Yellowstone or to Glacier National Park en route.

Let me tell you what can be done, let me send you some descriptive printed matter. Let me help plan a trip for you. That's my business and part of the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R. R.) service.

BOYLE HOLDS MACK TO DRAW SWIMMING RACE

Lowell Boxer in Fast Bout Before New London, Conn., Club

Beachmont Glove Artist Caught a Tattler in Johnny Boyle

Johnny Boyle, the prize local light-weight, who has been going along at a great clip or late, received a draw last night in his bout with Frankie Mack of Beachmont at the boxing club in New London, Conn. Mack, however, was generally conceded to have a shade on the Lowell boxer at the conclusion of the bout.

Boyle took on the match with his well known opponent at short notice and was not in the best of condition. Mack, on the other hand, had been training diligently for the contest for several weeks and climbed through the ropes in the pink of condition.

Mack was 15 or 16 pounds heavier than the local boy, and the crowd in the packed house at his favorite kept an account of his smaller stature and for the reason that he did the majority of the fighting.

The Beachmont lad fought in good style of battle, throwing his left and right hands away. Boyle kept after him continually no matter how much the going was.

Boyle was badly beaten in the second round by straight lefts and right hands. He was knocked down twice, and after the third round he was up, but he was almost at the end of his rope.

As the fight progressed Boyle grew stronger, although he had a badly battered lip when Mack kept pecking at it with his left hand. In the closing rounds Boyle was in a better position, but he was still at the end of his rope.

Stimpson's Batting and Base Running One of Game's Features

Although Portland, out of Lowell yesterday the holding of the home team was so narrow that Jimmy Gray's run had little difficulty in bagging the game by a 7-4 score. Lowell was never in danger after the first inning although Portland tied up the score in the last of fourth. In the first of the fifth, however, errors and late sent four of the Lowell players scrambling across the plate with bases and from that time on the game was on ice.

Shenk was on the mound for the Champions, and although he was touched up for eleven runs he kept them well scattered. Stimpson was the mainstay of the Grays with the wood and connected for three safe blows. Matthews and Stimpson both pilfered two sacks, Lowell having six stolen bases. Neither Watson nor Mayberry was successful in his attempt to steal the Lowell run-getting. The score:

JOHNNY BOYLE

Beachmont boxer will result, in all probability, in his receiving several matings in the next few weeks from the makers of the larger Connecticut clubs.

Lowell Men to Compete in Swim From Nashua to Lowell

A swimming race from Nashua to Lowell for the championship of New England, open to all, to be held on Sunday, June 21, was discussed at a meeting of local men last evening and if present plans materialize a great event will be pulled off. Among the Lowell men who will compete are: Frank P. Murphy, Eddie McCormick, Timothy McConney and Mike Wrenn, and possibly Dave Christa. Others are expected to join the Lowell fins including many from Boston.

According to the plans discussed last night, each man is to deposit $15, and the winner will take all. Mr. Murphy says he will start at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning at The Sun office tomorrow evening at 5 o'clock and "come across" with his fifteen and several others will also be on hand.

There has been some doubt expressed about Murphy's time on his recent swim to Lawrence when he went from the Centralville bridge in Lowell to the water works in Lawrence in 4 hours and 15 minutes, but upon inquiry from men employed at the Lawrence station, the water learned that it is correct.

As a matter of fact, this time is not as fast as that made by Murphy last season. On that occasion "Fudge" covered the distance in 4 hours and 22 minutes. This is the record time and on that occasion the official time keeper was Ex-Alderman John W. Daly. Mr. Daly avers that this is correct as he accompanied the Lowell swimmer over the entire distance.

PRESIDENT WARNS CHAUFFEURS

Instructs White House Auto Drivers to Observe the Speed Restrictions

WASHINGTON, June 2.—White House chauffeurs were today under instructions from President Wilson to observe automobile speed restrictions wherever they were driving. Recently a car in which the president's daughter, Mrs. Sayre and Miss Margaret Wilson, were riding, was stopped in Maryland by an officer who charged the chauffeur with violation of the speed laws.

HEARING ON KILLER CASE

CHICAGO, June 2.—Federal judges here received word yesterday that the United States court at Cincinnati had set Sept. 10 as the date for the hearing of the Miller case between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Chicago Federals.

An attempt to McMahon's release in the fact that the ex-manager of the Lowell team and Swanson, their former partner, did not get along well together. In fact Swanson quit the club, it is said, on account of his disagreement with Billy. Of course Swanson is a good ball player, but his poor policy for an owner to interfere with a manager. McMahon never was noted for a particularly patient disposition when he thought he was being ill-used and eventually did not waste much time about settling himself through with the Lowell club.

The judges of the Grammar school baseball league, John Daly, Robert C. Parsons and Cecil P. Dodge, will convene tomorrow night for the purpose of settling several disputes which have arisen among the youngsters. Tom Williams, the "guardian" of the league requests that all captains and managers who have protests to make, call upon him tomorrow at the Y. M. C. A.

Eddie McCormick, the local swimmer, is of the opinion that "Fudge" Christa can kick it out with any of the swimmers in these parts after he has gained a little more experience. Christa is now looking for a distance race with any of the good local talent.

Paul Howard is expected to join Lowell today. Reports from the Burns camp state that Howard has made his peace with the Boston fire department and will once more amble around the field of a ball park. If Howard comes, it will be perceptibly stronger.

Jimmie Carr, the third baseman, was loaned by Lowell a few years ago, but he never made the grade. Carr is now in the New York-New Jersey league, where he will have his best chance of making the grade. Carr is a good player, but he is not a good manager. Carr is now looking for a distance race with any of the good local talent.

MILITANT ATTACKS MAN WITH HATCHET

Rained a Shower of Blows on Man Who Tried to Prevent Her From Slashing Pictures—Two Others Horsewhip Doctor

LONDON, June 3.—The wild women again wreaked their vengeance on Dr. Francis Edward Forward, deputy governor and medical officer of Holloway jail. Two women armed with stout horsewhips sprang upon the doctor as he left the prison today and were thrashing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue and arrested his assailants. The women declared that their action was a protest against the "forceful feeding for which this beast is responsible." Dr. Forward refused to charge the women with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct.

MILITANT MADE SAVAGE ATTACK ON ATTENDANT AT ART GALLERY

LONDON, June 3.—A savage attack with a hatchet was made today by a young militant suffragette on an attendant at the Dore gallery, who tried to prevent her from destroying the valuable pictures on exhibition there. The woman who thus abandoned the principle of the sanctity of human life, hitherto held up as one of the chief assets of the militant suffragettes, already had mined two paintings in the gallery which is in new Bond street, the heart of the fashionable quarter of London. She was proceeding to hack a third picture when an attendant named Bourlet seized her arm. The vandal turned on the man furiously and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other attendants rushed to Bourlet's aid and quickly overpowered and disarmed the woman. She kicked, struggled and screamed for some minutes until she was handed over to the police. The woman evidently is educated and was stylishly dressed. A letter was left in the Dore gallery by the assailant in which she said: "To stop this you must give us justice. We are willing to die for it, but we give in. We have tried all other ways. We have been too lady-like in the past. Now we are going to fight and you can allow us to be killed. Others will arise to take our places. I have joined in the war." One of the pictures destroyed was "Love Wounded," a priceless engraving by Bartolozzi.

AT BOSTON UNIVERSITY

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TODAY—UNVEIL PORTRAIT OF W. E. HUNTINGTON

BOSTON, June 3.—An interesting feature of the commencement program at Boston university today was the unveiling of a portrait of William Edwards Huntington, former president of the institution. The portrait is a special gift of the class of 1887. Justice William Renwick Riddell of the supreme court of Ontario came here to deliver the commencement oration to the graduating class.

Justice Riddell's Address

The participation of college men in public service was urged by Justice William Renwick Riddell of the supreme court of Ontario in an address before the graduating class of Boston university today. "He who shines his fellows," said Justice Riddell, "may have a high mission, a lofty outlook and he may be worthy of all praise; but there must be some to mingle with the people to know their needs at first hand, to take an immediate and not simply a mediate part in directing their thoughts and their aspirations. Is that function to be left to the ward healer, to the boss who makes his living by it, to the party hack with no thought about the immediate success of some scheme. "Some one must lead; who is it to be? It should be a glory of a university that from its walls go forth the leaders of the people. The neighboring college which trained a Garfield, the venerable and historic elder across the way which gave this land a Roosevelt and another state which produced a Taft or a Wilson did not crush in their minds the desire for public service. "All the problems of government have not been solved, many remain for the clearest thinking, the renunciation of prejudice, honest and sincere determination to do the thing that is right. "How are we to settle international questions? Blood and agony and death cannot be the final argument. War is unhappily sometimes not only right but even a duty. In the general case, however, of international disputes war can no more be said to be necessary than it is necessary for two persons who have a dispute to fight it out with lance and club as was the custom centuries ago in England. "We have four thousand miles of international boundary without a soldier or a fortification. The example of two such nations as the United States and Canada might well be followed by others and in good time it must and will be followed."

NEW LAW ON EGGS

TO TAKE EFFECT ON JUNE 20—SIGNS ON COLD STORAGE EGGS

The following law recently passed by the legislature will go into effect on June 20 and is of special interest to local storekeepers, wholesale dealers, etc. After the above date the letters on all labels on storage eggs must be at least one inch in height.

Chapter 545: An act relative to the sale of eggs taken from cold storage. Be it enacted, etc., as follows: Section 1 of chapter 533 of the acts of the year 1913 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "at," in the second line, the words: "Wholesale or, by striking out the words "at retail," in the 13th line, and by inserting after the word "at," in the 16th line, the words: "shall be in letters not less than one inch in height and so as to read as follows: Section 1. Whenever eggs that have been in cold storage are sold at wholesale or retail, or offered or exposed for sale, the basket, box or other container in which the eggs are placed shall be marked plainly and conspicuously with the words "cold storage eggs" or there shall be attached to such container a placard or sign having on it the said words. If eggs that have been in cold storage are sold at retail or offered or exposed for sale without a container or placed upon a counter or elsewhere, a sign or placard, having the words "cold storage eggs" plainly and conspicuously marked upon it, shall be displayed in, upon or immediately above the said eggs; the intent of this act being that cold storage eggs sold or offered or exposed for sale shall be designated in such a manner that the purchaser will know that they are cold storage eggs. The display of the words "cold storage eggs" as required by this act, shall be in letters not less than one inch in height and shall be done in such a manner as is approved by the state board of health. (Approved May 20, 1914.)

1024 PERISH IN WRECK

Official List of Empress Dead— 452 Were Saved—Military Funeral Put Off Till Tomorrow

QUEBEC, Que., June 3.—Four hundred and fifty-two souls only out of 1476 were saved from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, according to the official figures given out late last night by the officials of the Canadian Pacific railway in this city. This makes a total of 1024 lost.

The road's statement with official figures showed the following: Total on board, crew and passengers, 1476. Total saved, 452. Total lost, 1024. The rescued first class 36, second class 47, third class 124, officers and crew 233. The missing—First class 56, second class 209, third class 552, officers and crew 150. Identified dead—First class 22, second class 31, officers and crew 12. Judge Willich, American consul in Quebec, last night gave out the following statement which explains the fate of all Americans who sailed on the Empress of Ireland.

Lost—Mrs. Bessie Bowler, Miss Florence Bowler, Hillsboro, Ind.; Mrs. Eva Searle, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. F. H. Dunleavy, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Richards, Terra Haute, Ind.; Mrs. John Fisher, Chicago; Mrs. M. W. Mannsey, Chicago; Dorothea Bach, Minneapolis; H. L. Heath, Chicago; J. R. Heath, Chicago; Alexander Bonithorne, Santa Barbara, Cal.; George E. Johnston, Santa Barbara, Cal.; Miss Jennie Newton, Antler, Md.; Miss Mary W. Gray, Terra Haute, Ind. Saved—Charles P. Clark, Detroit; Harry and Mrs. Freeman, Milwaukee; Edith Bach, Minneapolis; Herman and Frieda Kraus, Sherbourne, Minn. The military funeral arranged by the government of the Dominion and Great Britain for the victims has been postponed until Thursday. The Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada, could not reach here before then and after telegraphic conference the committee in charge in Quebec decided to defer the services.

THE ENGLISH FLAG

Flown From Sun Building Today in Honor of George V

Today is the birthday of King George V. of England and throughout the Dominion on which the sun never sets, flags are waving gaily in commemoration, for in England the birthday of the reigning monarch is set apart in a very special manner as a day of national celebration. In the olden days of pageantry the birthdays of the kings and queens was a signal for rejoicing throughout the kingdom, and the splendor of such events in the times of Harry and Elizabeth still dazzles the student of history. In our own times the long chain of birthdays that graced the reign of Victoria waked a thrill of pride in English hearts in all climes where the Union Jack holds sway, and undoubtedly fond memories will be aroused today by the flags that wave in honor of the present king throughout the world. Many who see the English flag flying from the flag-pole of The Sun building today may not understand its significance, but few of those born in England will forget that it marks the anniversary of their beloved king, for the English are devotedly attached to their rulers.

King George V. was born June 3, 1865, and acceded to the throne May 6, 1910. After the death of his father, King Edward VII, there was a great deal of speculation as to the character of the new monarch, for Edward had admirable qualities and it was felt that his successor would be in some ways a disappointment. This, however, has not been the case. Despite the fact that England has had very radical political movements and great social problems of a perplexing nature, the present king has acted with tact, discretion and rare diplomacy. He has also inherited the democratic tendencies of his popular father, and is undoubtedly beloved by the people of England. In a few short weeks he will sign the home rule bill for Ireland and by so doing will be reverentially remembered in that country. Englishmen have excellent reason to be proud of King George and today a large portion of the civilized world will join them in singing "God Save the King."

42,000 FARM HANDS

GREAT DEMAND FOR HARVEST EMPLOYEES BY KANSAS FARMERS.

BOSTON, June 3.—The farmers in Kansas need 42,000 harvest hands and are willing to pay $2 or more a day for a period of three months for competent workmen, according to an announcement made yesterday by the state free employment bureau, on Kneeland street, this city. The bureau's May statement says that there has been a decrease of about 20 per cent in the demand for help as compared with May of last year. The average demand for help during the last month was 57, as compared with 195 in 1913. The average daily number of positions filled was 67 as compared with 80 in 1913.

B. & M. HEARINGS

On Bills Authorizing New Haven and Holding Co.'s to Sell Stock

BOSTON, June 3.—An opportunity for the presentation of views on the railroad situation in this state was given today when a public hearing was arranged by the legislative committee on railroads on two bills introduced by Senator Milton of Framingham. The bills were offered after the reading of the message of Gov. Walsh recommending the passage of legislation to permit the separation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Maine railroads.

One of them is a so-called enabling act which would authorize the New Haven company to dispose of its stock in the Boston Holding company and permit the holding company, which owns a majority of the Boston & Maine stock to dispose of these shares. The other bill would authorize the New Haven to dispose of its stock in the Berkshire Street Railway Co., and would relieve the New Haven from obligation to build certain trolley lines in the western part of the state.

EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

DEDICATION OF FIVE NEW BUILDINGS ON PROPERTY OF CONSTANTINOPLE COLLEGE

NEW YORK, June 3.—According to despatches received from Constantinople, a new era in higher education for women in the near east was marked today by the dedication of the five new buildings on the property of Constantinople college at Amankeuy, on the European shores of the Bosphorus. Americans who participated in the exercises included George A. Plimpton and Walter R. Walker of New York, trustees of the college, and Dr. Mary Mills Parick, titular head of the school. Mr. Walker represented Mrs. Helen Miller Gould Shepard, the donor of Gould hall.

SHEVLIN GETS ONE YEAR FIRE ON CENTRAL ST.

FORMER CUSTOMS INSPECTOR SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY TO SMUGGLE

BOSTON, June 3.—Terrance L. Shevlin, formerly a customs inspector in the employ of the government, was sentenced to the jail at Greenfield for a year and a day by Judge Morton in the United States district court yesterday on an indictment for conspiracy to smuggle dress goods into this country. Three other cases against him were not heard. His wife, Annie Shevlin, was let go in all four cases before the court yesterday. The indictment on which her husband was sentenced also named her and Kate A. Brennan, a New York dressmaker, as defendants. As to both of them it was placed on file.

Don't forget Eldora Campers, Thurs. A telephone alarm brought the members of the protective to the spot and the fire was quickly extinguished. A camp owned by John Osgood and located off Varnum avenue was seriously damaged by fire which started shortly after 6.15 o'clock last night. Hoses 8 and 10 responded and by hard work kept the blaze confined to the one camp. The origin of the fire is not known.

REGS REBELS NOT TO

ATTACK ZACATECAS

TOREON, Mexico, June 3.—General Luis Baron, federal commander at Zacatecas has sent a second appeal to General Paulino Natera, urging him not to attack that city because he had received advices from the war department at Mexico City that Huerta was about to resign. Natera answered that he would not attack but that he would prevent the retreat of the federals by cutting the railroad to Aguas Calientes.

Constitutionalist leaders assert they have information from Mexico City that General Blanquet, war minister, and the provisional president had quarreled over the evacuation of Saltillo.

Noticable that women whose blood is thin—anaemic—become subject to neuralgic pains when the dance too much and rob themselves of sleep and open-air exercise.

The woman who makes great demands on her strength, either by overworking or overdancing, must keep her blood in condition or suffer. The pain of neuritis is simply a sign adopted by nature to show that the nervous system is being starved because the blood no longer brings it what it needs. The one great cause

GREAT SUFFRAGIST RALLY

The Cause Ably Pleaded at Associate Hall—Mrs. Crowley, Mrs. Watson and Other Speakers

Miss Mary S. Robinson, president of the Lowell League, presided at the closing rally of the suffrage campaign conference for Middlesex county, held last night in Associate hall. The far sex was well represented and there was quite a generous sprinkling of "mere men." There were three men on the platform: Mayor Dennis J. Murphy, Daniel J. O'Connor and Philip S. Marden. The mayor and Mr. O'Connor were among the speakers.

Suffrage in Colorado

Mrs. Wenona H. Pinkham, formerly of Colorado, was the first speaker and gave a word of personal testimony. She said if any one doubts the efficacy of woman suffrage one has but to go to the states where it obtains and be convinced that it spells progress. She argued that suffrage had spread from one state to another and that the states adjacent to a suffrage state, having opportunity to see how the system works, would not adopt it if the results were bad. She said that in the pioneer days of the west, the assistance rendered by the women in building up those pioneer states and the men believe that because the women have done so much they should have a voice in the making of the laws. She drew a word picture of the women in the pioneer state with a baby and a gun in her arms and said the women in just as much in need of protection in these days as she was then. In the pioneer days, she said, the gun was the weapon. In speaking of the building from a suffrage state to Massachusetts she said that seeing here the foreign-born naturalized citizen come to the polls year after year made her feel the inferiority of being excluded from the privileges of retaining her full citizenship.

UNSIGHTLY PIMPLES COVERED CHEEKS

Itched and Smarted, Also on Chest, Arms and Behind Ears. Worst at Night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Entirely Healed.

R. P. D. No. 3, Box 32, Union, Maine—

"When my little girl was about three months old I noticed several little pimples on her face which filled with a watery matter then broke and ran together, and soon both cheeks were entirely covered. It seemed to itch and smart, sometimes on her chest and on her arms in the hollows at the elbows. I would have to put cloths around them to keep her from scratching them. At last it began to come behind the ears and when over a pimple broke and the matter touched the flesh it would poison and break out there until the ears were sore all around. At night when at the worst I would notice she had been scratching it and would find it bleeding. The breaking out was quite unsightly for there was a discharge which would come from it and run down upon her neck a good deal of the time. She remained in this condition for over a year."

"Nothing did any permanent good until I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used them according to directions. It was two weeks when it was entirely healed and has never broken out since." (Signed) Mrs. J. E. Miller, April 12, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c, sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

at Mr. O'Connor, that the ballot has improved the home in Colorado. My mother, brother and myself have gone to the polls together and it was a splendid thing for us, because it gave us something to think and talk about that was of general interest.

"When I speak to you about Colorado, I don't mean to say Colorado is an exemplary state and I suppose at this moment you may be thinking about the big strike that has been in progress there, but it would take time to solve the industrial problem. It is a question that really has the wisdom of men and women both."

"You have heard that there have been corrupt elections in Colorado, but you must remember that the women of Colorado are in the minority, and it would be hardly fair to compare her with Massachusetts where there have been in operation for hundreds of years."

"There are just two reasons for giving the women the vote. The first is that men and women are much alike and the second is that men and women have different capacities. They feel differently in many things and they should have the vote to sustain their opinion and their beliefs."

Mrs. Teresa Crowley was called upon and she gave a quite snappy and interesting talk. "I have just attended a street meeting and that about enough for me, thank you," said Mrs. Crowley, but she kept on talking just the same. She said she had been listened to quite attentively in the street. There were two or three instances where she was rather prejudiced and she was rather prejudiced to have to call on men to quell the disturbance. Mrs. Crowley said that once while speaking a small man with a narrow chest and bald head insisted upon interrupting her. "Would you like to be a policeman?" asked the little narrow-chested bald-headed man and Mrs. Crowley told him that she would take a chance with him any time.

Referring to the new law whereby it is optional with mayors in Massachusetts to appoint police women, Mrs. Crowley said she thought the law was a good one and hoped it would be taken advantage of. She said that the police are the agents of the entire community and are maintained by the taxpayers and she believed there were lots of places in the police department where women could fit in very nicely. She said the argument has been raised that women lacked the asset of physical force, but she said that argument didn't amount to much. She said that the modern country doesn't win its wars by physical force. "The man behind the gun these days," she said, "is the taxpayer and many of them are women. It is no longer a question of can you fight, but of can you dance."

Mrs. Crowley told a very laughable story having to do with her daughter who had been asked to take the affirmative in a debate on the subject: "Taxation without representation is not tyranny." "She came to me and told me what had happened," said Mrs. Crowley, "and I told her to go ahead and make the best of it. I realize how other people enjoy hearing one talk about one's own children," continued Mrs. Crowley, with a twinkle in her eye, "but I want to tell you another story about this same little girl. After having been elected to a very honorable office in the cause which I now represent, I went home and told with glowing expression of my election. After I had finished this same little girl looked up into my face and said: 'Oh, mamma, are you the goat?'"

Woman From Cambridge

Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson of Cambridge, the county chairman, said that the fashion had changed in regard to suffrage, of late years; and it now takes real fortitude to be an anti-suffragist. When Mrs. Johnson made this remark she had her feet and women seated in the front row and wearing red roses, the anti emblem.

Voting in Australia

Mrs. A. Lister Watson, whose home is in Australia, where women have full suffrage in all the states, gave a very interesting talk. She said that the states were federated, the two that had equal suffrage refused to come into the federation without the suffrage; and so, for 12 years, women have voted in Australia equally with men. The politicians who formerly opposed it, she said, are now claiming the authorship of the suffrage bill. The effect of equal suffrage is never discussed, because it has become so much a part of their national life. Had it been a failure, it would most certainly have been repealed, because there are more men than women voters in Australia. One of the statements given out by anti-suffragists she branded as absolutely false. They have said that the infant mortality in

New Zealand is a disgrace to women. As a matter of fact, the death rate among children is the lowest in the world, and it is directly traceable in part to the pure milk supply, which is a direct result of woman suffrage. There has been an increasingly large percentage of the woman vote cast each year, and legislation or direct action to the home has resulted. There is also greater security against unjust laws pertaining to women, and boys today in Australia are growing up with the conviction that their mothers know as much as their fathers.

Honest Don Cosgrove

When Mr. Cosgrove was introduced, he said that for the first time in his life he was affected with stage fright, but he felt it his duty to be present and endorse the cause that stands for social justice. He mentioned many prominent men who do endorse equal suffrage, beginning with Theodore Roosevelt, and then he referred to many of the splendid women who stand for equal suffrage, and said: "When a movement is led by such people as these, we have no reason to doubt the results." In quoting the statement that "woman's place is in the home," he said, "man's place is in the home a good deal more of the time than he is often told there." He closed by saying that he is not afraid of the female, political or otherwise, of equal suffrage, because the cause is a just one.

Mayor Murphy Talks

Mayor Murphy followed Mr. Cosgrove and the mayor said he feared that the narrow prejudice of his vocabulary would not do justice to woman suffrage. After the magnificent speech of Mr. Cosgrove, the mayor said he had not very much experience with women voters, but before concluding he acknowledged that he owed his political success to the women. His first experience with women voters, however, would hardly bear out his statement. It happened when he was running for a second term on the school board and he told the story last night. He said that in his precinct there were several women who could have voted but only one exercised themselves for the election and opportunity to vote. The woman, he said, was well known to him. When they came into the polling place they shook hands with him and told him they hoped he would be re-elected, but when the vote was counted not one of them was for him.

The closing speaker was Miss Florence Levesque, who read Alice Parker's "Children's Arguments Against 'Pockets for Women.'" Miss Levesque also spoke a strong word of suffrage.

Sweet Girl Orders

The following young ladies, wearing yellow sashes, were the sisters: Misses Rebecca Branchell, Julia Burke, Anna Corley, Alice Eveleth, James Fulton, Julia Rose, Frances Frappier, Patricia Frappier, Grace Graven, Mary Gordon, Jessie Gordon, Mary Holmes, Mary Joseph, Alice Joyce, Mary Lang, Gertrude Libbey, Frances MacIntosh, Josephine Murphy, Esther Owen, Gladys Penzance, Elizabeth Provencer, Marian Simpson, Helen Stearns, May Stone, Helen Thomas, Helen Webster, Dorothy Q. Wright and Miss Webster.

N. E. CONVENTION PLANS

Typographical Union Makes Elaborate Arrangements for Meeting Here This Month

The "convention committee" of the Lowell Typographical union met last evening and discussed further the plans for the forthcoming convention of the N. E. T. U. on June 22-24. Chairman Harry Mayes presided and reports in detail of the progress were read with interest by the members of various sub-committees. The souvenir booklet in charge of Edward Turnbull, Gabriel Andoin and Percy Foster, promises to be a splendidly gotten up volume of information. Many routine matters were considered and the committee adjourned until Saturday evening next at 7:30.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex ss. Probate Court. To the wife and heirs apparent or presumptive of William H. Collins, of Lowell, in said County.

Whereas, a petition for conservatorship has been presented to said Court, by the said William H. Collins, alleging that he has become incapacitated by reason of advanced age and mental weakness to properly care for his property, and praying that Dora E. Collins, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, or some other suitable person, may be appointed conservator of his property, agreeably to the law in such case made and provided.

You are hereby cited to appear at a private Court to be held at Lowell in and for said County of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a conservator should not be appointed as aforesaid.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to cause you to be notified of the time and place appointed for the hearing of said petition, by mailing to said wife and heirs apparent or presumptive at the last known post office address of each a copy of the same, seven days at least before said Court, or instead of said mailing, by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this first day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.
